By-Pass Stirs Sharp Protests

Hinders Business, Charge

Restaurants Rip at Plan

A storm of protest arose today on the heels of a proposal calling for a belt-line to carry through traffic on U. S. Route 42 away from Mansfield's business district.

Opposition developed quickly among restaurant and hotel owners, and is expected to develop in other quarters later.

Theme of today's protest was that the re-routing would "take trade out of town."

That sentiment was voiced by Stephen Georgopulos of the Parkway restaurant in adding his voice to the chorus of opposition.

"Let's not run business away. Let's bring them into town. It would be better to spend the money in building a highway through the town.

"The more people you bring into to town the better off you are," he said, adding that not only restaurants, but hotels, drug stores, and department and other stores would suffer.

He said the city can't depend on factories alone to keep the city going, but needs the tourist trade.

"Why should the Chamber of Commerce, which is supported by business, want to favor an idea taking trade out of town?" he asked, and added that spending of money on such a project would be "foolish."

"TOURISTS EAT HERE"

A hotel manager opposed to the plan was Earl E. Bates of the Fairview hotel. "Most of our clients here travel by highway rather than by train. Naturally, many of the motorists going through stop to eat here and stay overnight."

The present set-up brings traffic into the city, Bates declared, adding that in the summertime, tourist traffic helps boost Mansfield business.

Bates said in his opinion the U. S. Route 42 belt-line would not alleviate downtown traffic since through traffic at the present time turns east at First street, by-passing the downtown business district.

"I'm definitely opposed to the idea," said T. P. Baumgardner, half-owner of the Drive-In-Ette on Park avenue east.

"The belt-line would take business away from Mansfield. It would definitely mean the loss of a great deal of money to Mansfield, not only for restaur-

Unification Bill Passed

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A new unified Department of Natural Resources in Ohio's state government was assured today.

The House passed, 99 to 35, a Senate-approved unification bill drafted by the Postwar Program commission, endorsed by the platforms of both parties, and representing some eight years of effort on the part of unification advocates.

Only Senate concurrence in minor House amendments, and signature by Governor Lausche, are required to make the bill law. Both are considered foregone conclusions.

The bill would establish the new department under a $10,000-a-year director, appointed by the governor for six years, and an eight-member commission composed of seven appointees and the director of the agricultural experiment station at Wooster.

The department shall contain divisions of lands, water, wildlife, forestry, parks, geological survey, and beach erosion.

Rep. Mooney (R-Hocking) asserted that the bill was "messed up in the Senate" when that chamber deprived the wildlife division of its independence.

Scholarship Set Up

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Creation of a scholarship fund that each year will start an Ohioan through four years of medical school training was announced today by the Ohio State Medical association.

Pupils Begin Vacation

Approximately 7,000 pupils in Mansfield public schools started a 10-day Easter vacation with the dismissal of classes this afternoon.

Schools will re-open April 25, starting the final semester of the 1948-49 term.

The more than 900 pupils of St. Peter's parochial schools were dismissed yesterday for the Good Friday and Easter holidays. They will return to their classes next Wednesday.

All rural school pupils in the county, except at Union Rural school, will put away their books today for the Good Friday and Easter holiday, but will return to classes next Monday morning.

Union Rural school will hold a special service at 3 p. m. tomorrow, with Rev. Ralph Mount of the Pleasant Valley Baptist church speaking. There will be a musical program.

See Easing In Cold War

Red Tactics Shift Predicted By U. S.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — U. S. officials today expressed the belief that Soviet Russia may be getting ready to ease off the cold war.

They said the Soviet Union has suffered a series of defeats in the field of foreign policy during the past year, and that in the face of these setbacks a shift in Russian tactics appears likely.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson made it clear yesterday that the door is open to any genuine Soviet peace moves. A week ago, Acheson said that the Atlantic pact, and other moves toward strengthening the west, had increased the possibilities of peace with Russia.

U. S. officials who specialize in Russian problems said that, so far, there has been no direct indication of a softer Soviet attitude. However, they said there have been numerous "indirect" evidences.

Chief among those, they said, is the relatively restrained nature of Soviet attacks on the west at the current session of the United Nations General assembly.

Scared Shark Leaves Water, Bites Bather

TAMPICO, Mex.—(AP)—A shark, frightened from the sea by naval gunfire and depth charges, jumped upon Miramar beach yesterday and bit a bather.

Other bathers grabbed sticks and clubs and beat the shark to death before it could get back to the water. The injured man was hospitalized.

The U. S. naval vessel John W. Weeks, six miles off shore, caused the trouble. It was demonstrating its guns and bombs for Mexican officials.

Auto Swindle Charge Filed

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Alfred S. Albinak, 47, was held today in Columbus under $6,000 bond, indicted for embezzling $3,673 from a staff member of the royal Eyptian embassy in Washington.

The sheriff's office arrested Albinak an hour before the indictment was reported Wednesday afternoon.

An engineer for Lustron, Incorporated, makers of prefabricated houses, Albinak was charged with accepting a check from M. S. Kadri in payment for an automobile which never was delivered.

3 Others Injured In 2 Mishaps

Truck Driver Draws $25 Fine

GALION — A Galion motorist was killed, another hurt critically and two other persons suffered minor injuried yesterday in two traffic accidents on U. S. Route 30-S near Caledonia.

Howard Black, 20, of 217 South Pierce street, was killed at 7:15 p. m., when his auto figured in a collision with another car and truck two miles east of Caledonia. Jerald Carris, 27, of Martel, riding with him, suffered minor facial and body lacreations, the Marion barracks of the state highway patrol reported.

Miss Orval M. Walton, 52, proprietor of the Reece Fur Shop at 314 South Market street, is in City hospital here with critical injuries as a result of an accident at 11:15 a. m. Wednesday a mile east of Caledonia.

Mrs. Frances Weir, 28, of Marion, R. D. 1, was bruised and Caleb Reeder, of 809 Yale drive, Mansfield, escaped injury when the parked Weir car was struck from the rear by Miss Walton's auto. Officers said Miss Walton apparently lost control of her car and it crashed into the Weir auto then rolled over.

TRUCKER FINED

A truck driver involved in the fatal crash was fined $25 on a reckless operation charge in the court of Mayor R. R. Bennington in Mt. Gilead and faces a possible manslaughter charge, state patrolmen said.

Miss Walton was taken to City hospital where it was reported she suffered a possible skull fracture, fractured right leg, three fractured ribs and possible internal injuries.

Patrolmen reported Black was killed when his car crashed head-on into a truck driven by Robert Bell, 33, Akron, who officers said was driving in the middle of the wet highway on a straight stretch of roadway. The truck also struck a car driven by Walter Nunn, 58, of Chicago, who was following Black, officers said.

Bell was charged with reckless operation and fined in the Mt.

Train Crash Kills Clerk

JACKSON, Miss. — (AP) — A 110-car freight train and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio "Rebel" crashed head-on near New Albany shortly before midnight last night, killing one person and injuring ten.

Supt. W. R. Moore of the Tennessee division of the GM and O attributed the wreck to a "misunderstanding of orders."

Moore said 30 to 35 passengers were aboard the "Rebel."

EARTHQUAKE STRIKES—Striking with deadly force, a violent earthquake shook the states of Oregon and Washington, taking a toll of eight lives and leaving behind millions of dollars worth of damage. Many others narrowly escaped death as bricks and debris fell in Seattle, crushing cars and littering the streets (top photo). One-fourth of the front of the Crane Valve company in Seattle toppled into the street (lower photo) during the course of the earth's shaking.

Outlook Brighter

OSES Official Sees More Jobs Opening

The cycle of unemployment and furloughing which hit Mansfield approximately two months ago, has leveled off, C. W. Handley, manager of the Ohio Employment office in Mansfield, said today.

Handley pointed out that beginning two months ago, new applicants for employment were filing at the employment office at the rate of 200 and 300 per week, with one week's filing hitting nearly 400.

But, for the past two weeks, less than 100 have filed applications due to unemployment, Handley stated.

There is a bright outlook for the coming months, too, he predicted.

Construction work, which is just beginning for the summer season, usually demands at least 500 additional workers, Handley said. His past records show this number of men can be expected to be hired in the near future for construction jobs.

Drawing from his close contacts with the major Mansfield industries, Handley stated, "There is no anticipated large scale lay-off pending in any Mansfield industry."

"Lay-offs are definitely leveling off in Mansfield and the city can look forward to a period of stabilized employment."

Fire Sweeps Cebu

MANILA — (INS) — An estimated 10,000 persons were left homeless today by a huge fire that swept the center of the Philippine city of Cebu.

Salary Bill Tops Hurdle

Committee OK's Teaching Pay Act

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Senate Education committee broke with the Senate leadership today by recommending for passage the Daniels-Guthrie bill to provide a $25-a-month "cost-of-living for school teachers.

The vote was 6-0.

Sen. Emmett Guthrie (D-Coshocton) committee chairman, sent the bill out despite a request from majority leade Margaret Mahoney to hold it until the state's financial situation is clarified.

The bill, which also provides $3.50 per pupil for non-teaching personnel and increased operating expenses, would cost about 27½ million dollars for the biennium.

Governor Lausche's budget estimates that expenses of the state on the current level will leave only $177,000 from estimated revenues.

Scores Injured As Panic Hits U. S. Northwest

By GAIL FOWLER

SEATTLE — (AP) — Eight were counted dead, scores injured and a preliminary damage estimate set as high as $10,000,000 today in the earthquake which jolted the Pacific Northwest yesterday.

The estimate, which he emphasized was "purely tentative," was furnished by Washington Governor Arthur B. Langlie. Basing his conclusion on preliminary reports from the state patrol, the Red Cross and other agencies, the governor set a flexible figure of $2,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Dead were:

Jack Roller, 18, Castle Rock, Wash., struck by falling masonry, in Longview, Wash.

Marvin Klegman, 11, Tacoma, crushed by falling brick in the collapse of a Tacoma school.

Percival Bisson, Olympia, plywood plant steamfitter, killed by falling bricks when a chimney toppled.

Mark Kuveric, about 70, Centralia, crushed under the collapsing store front.

Alfred Welander, 60, of Seattle; Mrs. C. W. West, Olympia; Abraham Hedstrom, Seattle, and Konrad Sorenson, 71, Cosmopolis, all victims of heart attacks.

Bricks showered off cornices and building facings; chimneys toppled from residences and industrial plants; plate glass cracked and shattered; roads sagged and split, moving automobiles rhumba'd and many parked machines were battered and dented by falling masonry.

Two unoccupied houses on Fox Island, near Tacoma, Wash., were dumped into Puget Sound.

Cities from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., in the north, southward to Oregon towns in the Salem area felt the quiverings of the quake. Scientists rated it of No. 8 intensity, which compares to a No. 12, or total destruction quake.

Gov. Langlie at Olympia, the state capital, said:

"Everyone is going to have to pitch in and do what he can."

SCORES INJURED

Olympia was especially hard hit. The old capitol building and the insurance building were the most severly damaged, and were ordered closed. Six other state buildings were shaken and cracked, but inspectors said they still were sound.

Tacoma, 30 miles south of Seattle, reported "scores and scores" were treated for shock, bruises and other minor hurts. Many downtown buildings, including the Bankers Trust building, were ordered evacuated. The Lowell school was roped off because its steeple had shifted.

The Holy Rosary church, probably the highest in Tacoma, was closed, as its cross was in imminent danger of collapsing.

Trains ran late between Seattle and Portland, by-passing the narrows route at Tacoma where quake-caused slides were not expected to be cleared until sometime today.

Two men were hospitalized from injuries at the Varrows Bridge tower, where a 23-ton "saddle" fell and sunk a scow. The "jinx" bridge blew down in a 1940 windstorm and is being rebuilt.

Landlocked Lake Louise, south of Tacoma, threw up heavy waves which threatened bulkheads yesterday.

At Puyallup, also near Tacoma, geysers of water appeared suddenly during the shake in a four-block area. There were no water mains in the vicinity. A woman was injured, not seriously, when the third floor of the Stewart apartment in Puyallup collapsed.

In Seattle a preliminary listing showed 75 buildings which suffered quake damage for amounts estimated up to $50,000 apiece.

Second Slayer Makes Escape

LONDON — (INS) — A convicted Columbus murderer went out to milk the cows this morning at the London prison farm and simply walked away in the fog which covered most of the state.

Prison officials said Dennis Smith, 42, disappeared about 4:30 a. m. They said the five foot seven and a half-inch, 180-pound man was known to have relatives in Columbus. He was dressed in the blue denim uniform of the prison.

Smith was the second state prisoner to escape within 24 hours. Bryan Kenan, 48, of Cleveland walked away from the penitentiary yesterday during his lunch hour.

VOTE TO HALT STRIKE

LONDON — (INS) — British stevedores voted today to end their four-day old strike and return to work Saturday.

Pair Held In Theft Of Jewelry

Most of $1,700 In Loot Recovered

A Mansfield couple was held in city jail today in connection with the theft April 7 of $1,700 worth of women's clothing and jewelry from the Pennsylvania railroad dock.

Edward Louis Peterson, 47, and his wife, Betty, 49, 77 Louis street, were arrested yesterday by Mansfield police for the theft, R. J. Abbaticchio, special FBI agent in charge of this district said today.

The jewelry, valued at more than $1,100, belonged to the National Ring and Leather company, Mansfield, and was shipped in a carton to a St. Minn., firm. The clothing gladstone bag also was on way to St. Paul. Investigation the Mansfield police, the Pennsylvania railroad police, and the Railway Express company agent in Mansfield led to the arrest of the pair.

The FBI said most of the loot was recovered. H. W. Hoffman, auditor for the National Ring and Leather company, said all but $85 worth of the jewelry has been accounted for.

The couple will be taken to Cleveland for arraignment before the U.S. commissioner on charges of stealing and carrying away property not their own with intent to convert it to their own use, the FBI said.

The couple was charged under the "theft from an interstate shipment" statute.

Rips Arming Under Pact

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The administration's plan to rearm western Europe headed into serious trouble today after Sen. Taft (R) Ohio denounced it as likely to incite war.

The GOP policy leader announced his opposition to the rearmament features of the North Atlantic Military pact, but did not denounce the 12-nation agreement as a whole.

Taft declared that the American program to arm the European democracies would be "a direct violation of the United Nations charter."

He contended that the pact would be "more of a deterrent to war if we don't arm Europe."

Taft declared that if the Russians believe that war will come in any case in a few years, they may decide to attack now.

On the other hand, he conceded, if the pact is merely a commitment to go to war if a nation is attacked, there may be no war.

Good Friday Union Services To Be Held at Noon Tomorrow

Churches Mark Crucifixion With Solemn Rites

By NITA BRANSON

Tomorrow, Good Friday, Christian men and women gather in Mansfield churches to consider in sober and reverent reflection one of history's greatest and most tragic hours.

It will be for many the high point of a week of religious services.

Union worship services will be held Friday from 12:05 to 12:55 at the First Lutheran and First Presbyterian churches. Public offices and a number of stores will close during the rites to permit employes to attend.

Rev. V. C. Stamets of the First Evangelical UB church, will give the sermon at the First Lutheran church. Speaker at the First Presbyterian church will be Dr. W. M. Taylor of the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Today, Maundy Thursday, there will be communion services and worship in many churches. At the Grace Gospel church, Rev. James E. Davey will preach on the subject, "The Cross and Cross-Bearing." Tomorrow night Rev. Davey will administer Holy Communion.

The Lord's Supper also will be observed tonight at the Mayflower Congregational church, in charge of Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck; at the St. Luke's Lutheran, where Dr. Herbert S. Garnes will preach on "The Last Hour On the Cross." Tomorrow at 8 p. m. there will be a public confession preparatory to communion.

Two joint services will be held tonight — one at the Park Avenue Baptist church, where members and those of the First Christian will join in Holy Communion. The second service will be at the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Members of the church will be joined by those from the First Congregational church.

From 1 to 5 p. m. today, Holy Communion will be administered at the First Methodist church and again at 7:30 p. m. when there will be full communion, reception of members and baptism.

Services at the Central Methodist church will start tonight at 7:30 p. m.; rites at the Holy Trinity Lutheran church in South Boulevards at the same hour.

Holy Hour services at the St. Peter's Catholic church started at 3 p. m. today. They will be followed at 7:30 p. m. by the traditional Tenebrae services. From 12 to 3 p. m. tomorrow, members of the congregation will join in the Mass to the Pre-Sanctified and Veneration of the Cross. This will commemorate Christ's three hours of agony on the Cross. At 7:30 p. m. Friday, Tenebrae services again will be held.

The congregation of the Main Street Evangelical UB will worship tonight and join in Holy Communion. Members at St. Mark's Lutheran will worship both tonight and Friday night with the Lord's Supper tonight.

Rev. E. W. Welch will preach both tonight and tomorrow night at the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church and at the First Evangelical UB church tonight there will be a candle-light communion service.

The usual three-hour service on Good Friday will be held tomorrow at the Grace Episcopal church. The nine periods of Christ's suffering will be told in meditations by the rector, Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard. Choir music appropriate for each period will be sung. Tonight at 8 p. m. there will be Holy Communion.

Both the First Lutheran and the St. Paul Lutheran will have services tonight with Holy Communion.

When scores were tallied, prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Isman and Mrs. Homer Roberts. Luncheon was served at a late hour at a table decorated with Easter baskets. Mrs. Marge Bowie, Rowland avenue, will be the next hostess on May 10.

Mansfield B. and P. W. Club Convenes at Leland Hotel

FIFTY MEMBERS of the Mansfield Business and Professional Women's club met last evening in the clubrooms of the Mansfield Leland hotel for a dessert luncheon. Attractive decorations in keeping with the season were used on the small tables. The Misses Bertha and Emma Reinewald were in charge of table arrangements.

Mrs. William Clauss, president, conducted the business session at which time committee reports were given. Miss Minnie Laudon, chairman of the nominating committee, made her report. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting on May 11 when the club convenes at the Leland hotel for a dinner and program.

Miss Pearl Danback announced that the program at the next meeting will consist of a dramatic skit and musical numbers by pupils of Mansfield Senior high school.

During the business session last evening Mrs. Charles Kerr, representing the board of directors, announced the revision of the by-laws.

Miss Ruth Maffet, Miss Carrie Beal and Miss Dorothy Landers were in charge of the program. Accordian numbers were given by Miss Shirley Lay and Bob Miller of Mansfield Senior high school showed technicolor pictures entitled, "A Trip To Ireland" and "Nice Things Happen Over Coffee".

Announcement was made of the state convention of the B. and P. W. to be held in Cincinnati on May 20, 21 and 22. An invitation was extended from the Akron, Newark and Elyria clubs to attend their 25th anniversary parties'.

Akron and Newark groups will hold their anniversary teas on Sunday afternoon, April 24. The Elyria club will celebrate on Sunday, May 1. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Clauss and Miss Roma Prosser.

Agenda Class Hears Mrs. Wheaton

Mrs. Walter Whiteside and Mrs. G. J. Kochenderfer were guests at the Agenda class meeting of the First Methodist church, Tuesday afternoon Mrs. M. H. Harrah, 83 Rowland avenue, was hostess to the group.

Mrs. Anna Rice, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Rice also led the members in devotions. A talk on welfare work was given by Mrs. Susan Wheaton.

Refreshments were served at the close of the session by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Whiteside.

The next meeting will be a picnic dinner in July with arrangement announced at a later date.

Clear Fork Riding Club Has Supper

The Clear Fork Riding Club met at the Prospect Park Pavilion for a covered dish supper on April 9, with 32 members present.

The committee had arranged for a variety of entertainment throughout the evening. During the supper hour they enjoyed numbers by Tex Forman and his band. After supper they were entertained by Larry Rupert, magician, and Jay Herbert ventriloquist and his "Woodie." Later in the evening the club enjoyed Deke Watson and his Brown Spots from New York City.

A short business meeting was held.

Members serving on this committee were: Kent Rummel, Mansfield, Mont Whitney and Glen Allgire from Lexington.

Beta Phi Mu To Give Tea May 1

Fifteen members of Beta Phi Mu sorority met Tuesday evening at the Southern Hotel for a regular business session. Plans were made for a social to be held April 26 with Mrs. Charles Guinn and Mrs. Manning Perkins in charge. The group planned to sponsor a Brownie Troop with Mrs. Perkins as chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Herring, Mrs. Richard Pfeiffer and Mrs. Edward Young assisting.

The sorority will hold a Mother-Daughter tea on May 1 at the Liberty Park pavilion from 3 to 5 p. m. Thomas Wright, republican candidate for mayor, addressed the group during the program period.

Busiest Man On Capitol Hill

Senator Has Jobs Galore

By JAY RICHTER
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Senator Scott Wike Lucas of Illinois recently received a note from a youthful constituent back home. Would you please, Mr. Senator, wrote the young man, reserve a room at the Mayflower hotel for me and the girl I am about to marry?

The senator, always willing to help out in an honorable and abiding cause, would and did. But it wasn't easy.

Scott Lucas, his most vigorous Republican adversaries admit, is the busiest man on Capitol Hill. From the various congressional offices of which he is now in charge pour some 500 letters daily, each signed by him. Their number, about eight times the senatorial average, is constantly increasing.

The Illinois senator is potentially the most powerful congressional figure in American history. It is certain that no other legislator has had more responsibility.

Lucas is Democratic majority leader, chairman of the majority policy committee, and chairman of the conference committee, all of them big jobs shared by three Republicans in last year's GOP Congress — Senators Robert A. Taft, Wallace H. White, Jr., and Eugene D. Millikin.

As if these are not enough, Lucas is also chairman of the steering committee and a member of the agriculture, foreign relations, and finance committees.

Lucas' titles, individually, don't mean much. What they add up to is a monumental task:

Lucas must try to get the Senate to give President Truman everything he wants.

The problems would confound a Solomon. A single stickler, the civil rights program which deeply effects white-Negro relations, high-lights the difficulties.

One of his aides summed it up by pointing to a supply of brand-new envelopes which, mysteriously, had turned up in Lucas' office.

"Nobody knows where they came from or how they got here," she said wearily, "but they're exactly what we need. Just look at the return address on them!"

At the top of each was printed: "Society of American Magicians."

His pivotal position in the Fair Deal makes the imposing person of the handsome senator a focal point of lobbyist activity.

Take the case of the female persuader who was perishing to talk with him, probably at length, about an inconsequential subject. After numerous unsuccessful efforts to seep through the screen of secretaries encircling his private office, the persistent woman stalked the senator in the corridors, finally cornered him.

"I've called your office a dozen times," she announced in breathless indignation, "and they always tell me there are 56 people waiting on your appointment list."

The busiest legislator, normally a patient man, can be curt.

"They are wrong," he snapped. "There are 156 people on the list."

Probably only the president has more demands on his time than Lucas who has no Secret Service men to guard him from angle-shooters and crackpots.

In a single day recently, the Illinois senator rose at 6:45 a. m. and took a brisk walk around Washington's huge Wardman Park hotel where he lives; drove to his office on Capitol Hill and dictated about 30 letters.

Then he went to a morning meeting of the finance committee; presided at a luncheon meeting of the policy committee; testified at an afternoon meeting of the postoffice and civil service committee which was considering a bill he had introduced.

Lucas then flew to Akron, O., where he delivered a resounding dinner speech on whither America; and flew back to Washington that night reading bills and reports on the way. The next morning he rose at 6:45 a. m.

Scott Lucas has been busy ever since he was born 57 years ago in the "Abe Lincoln country" of Illinois, where his grandfather cut wheat in the same field with the Great Emancipator.

The Lucas' were tenant farmers who scratched out a bare living on leased land near Chandlerville. Scott worked long hours at chores before and after school

Later, he went to Wesleyan university at Bloomington, Ill., carrying $50 in his pocket and a breastful of ambition He worked his way through preliminary courses by waiting tables and stoking furnaces.

Lucas literally batted his way through law school by playing professional baseball in the Three-I league. He is a veteran of World War I.

For recreation, in the days when he had time for it, Lucas liked to hunt, fish, and play golf.

Sharpe Went 77 Rounds In Record Battle

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Harry S. Sharpe, who won a fabulous fight of 77 rounds in 1893 and established a boxing record that still stands, died yesterday at the age of 78.

On Feb. 5, 1893, Sharpe knocked out Frank Crosby in the 77th round in a picnic grove at Nameoki, Ill.—for the Missouri lightweight title.

Boxing was illegal at the time. To get away from St. Louis police, who had stopped two previous attempts to have the battle, there was a special train for the occasion on a Sunday afternoon.

It was 56 years ago. Until a few days ago Sharpe was active as an insurance man. But yesterday he suffered a stroke, went to a hospital, and died.

Crosby died six years ago.

The fight stands as the longest knockout contest fought with gloves. They used straight queensberry rules, with each man protecting himself in the clinches.

The rounds were three minutes, with one minute between. The battle lasted five hours and five minutes, ending by torchlight. Both men were bloody to the waist and it was sleeting.

The purse for the winner was only $500.

In a recent interview Sharpe looked back over the years, took note of today's big money in boxing, and came to a sad conclusion:

"I lived fifty years too soon."

Little Known Facts

'Uncle Dave' Is Quite a Fellow

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor-Italics...

DAYTON — (AP) — His name is Dr. David E. Reese, commissioner of the mid American conference, but everyone calls him "Uncle Dave."

He's a rugged guy in a bridge game, has few equals at gin rummy, and no one his age can approach him on a tennis court. He hasn't owned pajamas or a nightshirt in 30 years, and he leads off each day with an ice cold tub bath.

Almost 35 years ago he was graduated from Denison university where he won a dozen "D's" on the athletic fields and a liberal sprinkling of "D's" in scholastic work.

He learned to chew tobacco at Denison, but the only time he chews now is when playing golf or washing his car. He washes the car more often than he plays golf, although until he started rearing a family he was on the course daily during the club-swinging season.

"Uncle Dave," one of the state's finest after-dinner speakers, smokes a can of tobacco each day, and 30 fine pipes are among his prized possessions. He gets a new one from his family each Christmas.

His big ambition is to retire to Granville, his old college town, and do nothing in spring, summer and fall but sit on the benches along Broadway. He shaves daily with a safety razor, and the only time he goes to a barber shop is when he's in Granville. Then he drops in on his old barber friend, Alex Roberts, and talks over old times while Alex shaves him.

For a quarter-century "Uncle Dave" was one of the country's top football and basketball officials. His whistle-tooting career ended in 1944 in Yankee stadium when "Doc" Blanchard, Army's big fullback, ran over him in the 58-0 rout of Notre Dame.

Dr. Reese suffered a broken leg and arm in the collision, but he boasts he "stopped Blanchard, which was more than the whole Notre Dame team could do."

While in the hospital he played gin rummy with sympatetic visitors, and won more cash than he would have earned during the same period as a dentist.

His daughter, Pat, who acts as his secretary and who has been dubbed Miss mid-America by the conference officials and coaches, says:

"As a dentist, Dad is far too amiable. Many a day he has had teeth marks on his fingers because of carrying on a conversation with a patient while working on him—and asking questions which required an answer."

Dave is a member of Oakwood's Board of Education, and he's forever steering some youngster to college—generally Denison, although his old school is not a member of his conference.

He is one commissioner who is not against colleges giving financial aid to athletes. Along that line he decalres:

"Today it is impossible for a boy to honestly work his way through college, play football and get an education. I feel that a football player without money should have the opportunity for an education so long as he's willing to work for it in the summer time, and do as much work for his board and room as he can during the school year.

"There is no reason for a boy going to college unless he gets an education. Never let the academic bars down for a football player. The boys have not been to blame for the evils of intercollegiate athletics. Why make them suffer by going to extremes? Give the boy an education, and some financial help won't hurt him."

As a football center at Denison, "Uncle Dave" scored six touchdowns in three years, made the football and basketball all-Ohio teams twice each, and played on three cage teams and one football squad which won state championships. He then played seven years of pro football and basketball, and with his partner won the Montgomery county doubles tennis title eight straight seasons.

He was born at Youngstown Hill, near Massillon, a coal mining community. His father started work in the mine at eight years of age, and was killed in a railroad accident two months before Dave was born.

His daughter Pat says:

"Dad is a self-made man, the finest, the kindest and the best. But he insists on reading detective stories while smoking his pipe in bed every night. We love him, anyway!"

So does everyone else.

Yank Victory Hopes Fade With Loss of DiMaggio

By LAWTON CARVER, INS SPORTS EDITOR

NEW YORK—(INS)—The New York Yankees' hope for a return to championship greatness grow dimmer by the moment as they wend their way homeward for the opening of the baseball season next Tuesday.

Joe DiMaggio again is the cause of their despair. He won't play in the first few games, and he may not play for several weeks as a regular and his ailing heel could force his virtual retirement.

While he is thus laid up at Johns Hopkins hospital for a series of treatments, the big guns of the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox remain impressively healthy and enthusiastic.

To add to the Yankee problems they still are fiddling around trying to find a first baseman. They need one now more than ever so that Tommy Henrich can stay in the outfield weakened by the loss of the clipper.

Manager Casey Stengel has several choices to take DiMaggio's place, but quite obviously he hasn't another DiMaggio. The replacements include:

Gene Woodling, (former Mansfield outfielder), a veteran shuttler between the majors and minors; Hank Bauer, a long-ball hitting rookie from Kansas City; Cliff Mapes, who seems to be able to do everything except hit; and Johnny Lindell, a well-known wearer of the Yankee colors.

WHERE FOR TOM

Stengel also, of course, has Charlie Keller for left field, and Tommy Henrich for either DiMaggio's centerfield slot or for right, unless he winds up at first base.

The worst aspects of the DiMaggio situation is that there is no way of telling when, if ever, he will be able to go again.

It isn't like a broken bone, or some other injury whose likely course can be charted.

Joe's heel was operated on in November for removal of a bony growth and on March 1, more than three months later, he was able to stand only one day of spring training, whereupon he bounded into the hospital.

He put too much pressure on his injury then, and repeated this last Saturday in an exhibition game by sliding into third base—and right back into John Hopkins.

TOP SALARY

This tough blow comes to him at the age of 34, well past his physical peak, although at the very top of his salary—reportedly $90,000 or $100,000 for the coming season, which he may not play.

According to latest advices there will be no further surgery.

His heel must respond to injections and x-rays, or he must sit it out.

If he is thus forced to the sidelines for any appreciable period, it probably means the end of whatever hopes the Yankees have in the pennant race.

BING AT BAT—Singer Bing Crosby, whose activities include a vice-presidency of the Pittsburgh Pirates, dresses the part of a player rather than an executive as he prepares to welcome the baseball season.

Big 9 Group On 'See' Tour

EAST LANSING, MICH. — (INS) — The machinery to make Michigan State the tenth member of the Western conference started clicking in earnest today when a three-man conference committee launched a three day investigatory sojourn at the East Lansing, Mich., campus.

Object of the investigation is to determine whether Michigan State, whose application for membership was accepted by the Big Nine of Chicago last December, fulfills all conference requirements "in letter and in spirit."

Detroit Team Breaks Mark

DETROIT — (AP) — Detroit's E and B bowlers soared over the national season record last night with a sizzling 3583 series.

Surprisingly, two of the E and B five failed to break 700. But Chat Bukowski made up for it by pounding out a 767 with games of 233, 255 and 279.

ABC records this season give the previous mark as 3476, compiled by Al's bowlodrome, of Lodi, N. J., last fall.

E and B got hotter each game, starting with 1168, warming to 1189 and boiling over with a final smashing 1226. The latter game is third highest for the nation this season.

George Young's 289 in the final game was high for the night.

Spartans Meet USC Thinlies

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Twenty-two strong, Michigan state college's track and field team is due here tonight to duel the powerful Trojans of southern California in the first major dual intersectional meet Saturday.

Interest was heightened with the announcement that Pell-Mel Patton, OS USC, the nation's outstanding sprinter in 1948, will launch his 1949 challenge for top honors.

Patton got off to a late training schedule after changing his mind and ending a brief "retirement" from track.

Can You Believe It?
Its located on South Adams Street, BRICK five rooms and bath, hot air furnace, and its in very good condition. Its NOT NEW but a home that you can own that will not compel you to pay high monthly payments. Think of it you can buy this home for only $4750. Now don't expect us to show you a Ritzy home for this money. You know its not in the book. However, wouldn't it be good judgment on your part to eliminate paying rent and buy a home that your monthly payments would not run higher than your rent? Think this over and call us for information on this low priced home. Its in a good location and excellent neighborhood.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Self-Government, Occupation Won't Mix

The hard core of the German agreement reached in Washington last week is that "military government as such will be terminated." That decision will stand.

Military government has been deteriorating rapidly and is already so feeble and ineffectual that if the foreign ministers had not decided to put an end to it, it would soon have broken down anyway.

The historic words terminating it have been spoken. Now all the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again.

But the rest of the agreements can be taken only as a temporary arrangement on the way to something which, for better for worse, will be quite different from the system outlined in the occupation statute.

The system proposed is described in the Schuman-Bevin-Acheson statement as one in which "the function of the Allied authorities will become supervisory." They will supervise a German government which is to be set in the next few months.

But when we look at the occupation statute we find that the Allied authorities are to "supervise" a government which is disarmed, which does not control its foreign trade and its currency, which is not supposed to have a foreign policy and cannot make international agreements, which has a constitution that is to be construed by the occupying powers and can be amended only if they approve, which is still to be controlled in the Ruhr, in scientific research, in respect to "restitution, reparations, decartelization, deconcentration, non-discrimination in trade matters, foreign interests in Germany."

Imagine M. Francois-Poncet, and Mr. McCloy, if he is to become high commissioners, and their British colleague sitting in Frankfurt and trying to supervise the German federal and state governments.

"Their staff personel shall," we read, "be kept to a minimum." Yet they are to know all that the German authorities do in respect to what are in reality all the main functions of government for forty-five million people.

They are to know it because the occupation statute gives them "the right to request and verify information and statistics," and then when they think they know, they must proceed to "supervise."

How? By telling the German authorities they must do this or that they must not do that? What happens if the Germans deny the allegations, dispute the statistics, challenge the decisions?

The occupation statute does not say because as a matter of fact there is little the high commissioners can do to enforce their supervision. They cannot reestablish military government. They cannot, except in flagrant cases, arrest and remove officials, and they cannot cut off German imports for fear of throwing the Germans into the arms of the Russians.

All this goes to show that self-government and military occupation are like oil and water, and they cannot be mixed.

Seek to Up Production, Boost Navy

War Materials Still Banned

WASHINGTON - (UP) — The big three western powers yesterday agreed on moves to speed industrial recovery in Germany and western Europe, and to give the defeated nazi state the beginnings of a merchant navy.

The three powers—the United States, Britain and France—agreed to permit a boost in German steel production and limited production of key industrial chemicals, metals and machine tools.

The accord also permits western Germany to construct up to 280,000 tons of shipping a year Ships are limited to 7,200 gross tons and a maximum speed of 12 knots.

The agreement is designed to clear the way for full participation in European recovery of the projected German federal republic being drafted at Bonn.

The three powers also agreed to keep in Germany as an aid to European recovery all or part of the equipemnt of 159 plants which had been scheduled for removal as war reparations.

These factories include 32 steel plants, 88 metal working plants, 32 chemical plants and seven non-ferrous metal industry plants.

While permitting the increase in German industrial activity, the three powers maintained strict prohibition against armament manufacture and other industries which might contribute to the rebirth of a German war machine.

Specifically prohibited from production is synthetic gas and oils, synthetic rubber and butadine, heavy machine tools that could be used for war, magnesium and berryllium and radioactive materials.

Senate Acts Swiftly to OK Early For Defense Position

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Senate yesterday unanimously confirmed President Truman's nomination of Stephen T. Early as undersecretary of defense.

Senate approval came less than two hours after the armed services committee had unanimously recommended confirmation.

Early, former press secretary to the late President Roosevelt, appeared at the five-minute nearing and answered two questions.

Armed Service Chairman Tydings (D) Md., asked immediate Senate action without the usual one-day delay because he said the confirmation should come at the earliest possible moment.

Tydings explained that resignations have resulted in the nation's defense set-up becoming "completely metamorphosed". He said that "it is in the national interest to confirm this appointment at the earliest possible moment."

Early was asked at the hearing whether he had resigned as vice-president of Pullman incorporated, and whether he intends to accept the defense post.

The one-time White House aide said that he has not yet had an opportunity to formally notify the Pullman company of his nomination or to resign.

The 60-year-old nominee gave the senators a thumbnail sketch of his life. He was a Washington newspaperman, a World War One machine gun officer and joined the staff of the late President Roosevelt on March 3, 1933.

Stop! Unless You Don't Care for Money or Life

Truck-Auto Crash . . . Two Injured.

Collision at Corner . . . Money, Blood Lost.

Hit a Pole . . . Five Injured.

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

STOP, it means your life! This sign, your brakes, the speed of your reflexes, or the other fellow's hurry may change your future and your family's, or it may mean no future at all.

So far this year four Mansfield area persons have died in auto accidents. Twenty-one were killed in traffic mishaps last year.

State Highway patrolmen have investigated 150 accidents the first three months this year. In property damage alone, the average accident estimate was $438.

The accompaning photos, taken by Police Identification Officer Paul Martin, graphically illustrate the cost in wrecked vehicles. The dollar and cents toll in medical and hospital bills staggers the imagination.

In January the state patrol investigated 47 accidents and estimated the damage done at $23,235. February totals were 49 mishaps for a total of $18,760.

Corporal J. L. Bishop of the State Highway Patrol said many of the accidents were caused by drivers not thinking about what other drivers were going to do.

He said that the Ashland road, for three miles northeast of Mansfield is the most dangerous in the area. Bishop explained that it's a three lane road and drivers passing cars sometimes don't think that someone may be passing a car coming from the other direction. This one reason caused many of the accidents. Another reason for mishaps the corporal said was that some drivers go too fast and do not consider that someone ahead of them may turn off the road. He said they think everyone is going straight through as they are.

Other bad area roads are Route 30 for two miles east of the city and Route 13 because of its many curves.

The state patrol's Ashland road stations has a nine man staff whose principal job is traffic supervision.

In the city Traffic Commissioner Frend Boals reports more accidents occur on Fourth street than on any other in the city. There were 175 on that one street in last year. Next was Main street with 160 mishaps.

Another major danger spot is Central park. There were 93 reported accidents there last year. Accident rates are high on Sixth street and Diamond street. Twenty five accidents were recorded there in 1948.

Mansfield's accident total for the past year was 1,505.

On Its Side . . . One Dead, One Crippled.

Crash Kills Galion Man

Gilead mayor's court. Leon McCarty, Morrow county prosecutor, and Dr. Frank Sweeney, coroner, visited the accident scene.

Black, a native of Galion and laborer at the Central Ohio Steel Products company here, graduated from Martel high school in 1947.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Black of Galion; three sisters, Mrs. John Heminger and Mrs. Virgil Irvin, both of Galion, and Mrs. Carl Bloodhart of Shelby, and three brothers, Charles of Newark and Clarence jr., and Earl, both of Galion.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Timson-Allen funeral home in Caledonia with Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of Galion First Reformed church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery here.

April Rains Keep Mercury Down

"April showers accounted for nearly an inch of rainfall in Mansfield yesterday, and held temperatures down below the 60 degree mark.

Temperatures are higher today, reaching 65 degrees at noon.

According to weather forecasters, tomorrow should bring a return of lower mercury readings accompanied by another spring sprinkling.

Light-Plane Pilots Near World Record

FULLERTON, Calif. — (AP) — If pilots Bill Barris and Dick Reidel remain aloft until 5:44 p. m. (PST) today, they will have equalled the world endurance flight record of 726 hours.

But the two weary airmen, who have been up in their single-motor "Sunkist Lady" since March 15, plan to keep going until they have flown 1,000 hours.

The existing mark of 726 hours was set over Long Beach, Calif., in 1939.

2 Policemen Tied to Trees

LISBON — (AP) — Three gunmen kidnaped two policemen in Weirton, W. Va. early today, drove them to Hanoverton, O. and handcuffed them to small trees.

The kidnapped policemen said after they were rescued the men's descriptions coincided with those of the trio who held up the Bank of Follansbee in Follansbee, W. Va. yesterday and escaped with some $5,000.

On the wild ride, one of the kidnapers lost his nerve and was forced to jump out of the moving car.

"A belt-line may be a convenience for some, but as far as the city is concerned, it's a failure financially." He added that a large part of the restaurant's business in the summer was from tourists.

Joseph G. Wright, manager of the Mansfield-Leland hotel, declined to comment on the proposed idea.

CALLS IT HARMFUL

The manager of the Hotel Southern, Ray Pierce, said he believed trucks should be rerouted, buts sees rerouting of automobiles as "harmful."

"I think a by-pass will do a lot of harm to business. A good many motorists stop in town when they go through. When they go around they don't stop," Pierce said

He added that parking was the most terrible aspect of the traffic problem in Mansfield.

The board of trustees of the Retail Merchants association will meet during the latter part of next week and V. H. Lodde, secretary-manager, said the rerouting proposal will be brought up for discussion then.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has a meeting set for next Tuesday night to act on the proposal.

One merchant said that parking was Mansfield's biggest problem and that instead of providing parking places, the city was taking them away.

He said the change in parking at Central Park had removed 30 parking places, and helped make a "race track" around the park. He added that one-way streets would also reduce parking places.

The city, he said, should add more parking meters, and he pointed to Diamond street as an example of a street requiring meters.

Another source said that motorists hestitate about going off a main highway to go into town when they can use a by-pass highway.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators makes his annual pilgrimage to the White House today to present President Truman with a gold season pass and invite him to make the first pitch in the major league baseball opener here Monday.

Griffith, baseball's ambassador of good will, has been going to the White House annually since 1912 when he asked the President Taft to throw out the ceremonial first pitch. Mr. Taft consented. Every President since then has followed suit.

Court Costs Piling Up

Statements are being mailed to collect approximately $1,350 in court costs owed Mansfield municipal court, Clerk Paul Ritchie said.

He estimated 50 per cent of these costs were owed on cases filed in the court from 1942 to 1946.

In all matters filed in municipal court the plaintiff is responsible for court costs, Ritchie said.

The court has legal recourse to collect the costs, he said.

Senate Acts Swiftly to OK Early For Defense Position

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Senate yesterday unanimously confirmed President Truman's nomination of Stephen T. Early as undersecretary of defense.

Senate approval came less than two hours after the armed services committee had unanimously recommended confirmation.

Early, former press secretary to the late President Roosevelt, appeared at the five-minute nearing and answered two questions.

Armed Service Chairman Tydings (D) Md., asked immediate Senate action without the usual one-day delay because he said the confirmation should come at the earliest possible moment.

Tydings explained that resignations have resulted in the nation's defense set-up becoming "completely metamorphosed". He said that "it is in the national interest to confirm this appointment at the earliest possible moment."

Early was asked at the hearing whether he had resigned as vice-president of Pullman incorporated, and whether he intends to accept the defense post.

The one-time White House aide said that he has not yet had an opportunity to formally notify the Pullman company of his nomination or to resign.

Chorus Sings For P-TA Meeting

The newly-organized Roseland P-TA held its second meeting at the school.

Wilbur Kindinger, temporary chairman, was in charge of the business meeting.

A mixed chorus of fifth and sixth grade pupils, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Horn, sang five selections. The music was followed by a movie, "Jesus of Nazareth."

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting May 10.

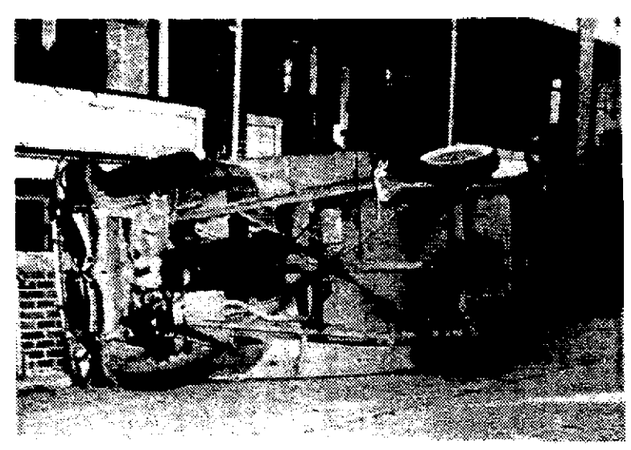
Stop! Unless You Don't Care for Money or Life

Truck-Auto Crash . . . Two Injured.

Collision at Corner . . . Money, Blood Lost.



Hit a Pole . . . Five Injured.

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

STOP, it means your life! This sign, your brakes, the speed of your reflexes, or the other fellow's hurry may change your future and your family's, or it may mean no future at all.

So far this year four Mansfield area persons have died in auto accidents. Twenty-one were killed in traffic mishaps last year.

State Highway patrolmen have investigated 150 accidents the first three months this year. In property damage alone, the average accident estimate was $438.

The accompaning photos, taken by Police Identification Officer Paul Martin, graphically illustrate the cost in wrecked vehicles. The dollar and cents toll in medical and hospital bills staggers the imagination.

In January the state patrol investigated 47 accidents and estimated the damage done at $23,235. February totals were 49 mishaps for a total of $18,760.

Corporal J. L. Bishop of the State Highway Patrol said many of the accidents were caused by drivers not thinking about what other drivers were going to do.

He said that the Ashland road, for three miles northeast of Mansfield is the most dangerous in the area. Bishop explained that it's a three lane road and drivers passing cars sometimes don't think that someone may be passing a car coming from the other direction. This one reason caused many of the accidents. Another reason for mishaps the corporal said was that some drivers go too fast and do not consider that someone ahead of them may turn off the road. He said they think everyone is going straight through as they are.

Other bad area roads are Route 30 for two miles east of the city and Route 13 because of its many curves.

On Its Side . . . One Dead, One Crippled.

The state patrol's Ashland road stations has a nine man staff whose principal job is traffic supervision.

In the city Traffic Commissioner Frend Boals reports more accidents occur on Fourth street than on any other in the city. There were 175 on that one street in last year. Next was Main street with 160 mishaps.

Another major danger spot is Central park. There were 93 reported accidents there last year. Accident rates are high on Sixth street and Diamond street. Twenty five accidents were recorded there in 1948.

Mansfield's accident total for the past year was 1,505.

Crash Kills Galion Man

Gilead mayor's court. Leon McCarty, Morrow county prosecutor, and Dr. Frank Sweeney, coroner, visited the accident scene.

Black, a native of Galion and laborer at the Central Ohio Steel Products company here, graduated from Martel high school in 1947.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Black of Galion; three sisters, Mrs. John Heminger and Mrs. Virgil Irvin, both of Galion, and Mrs. Carl Bloodhart of Shelby, and three brothers, Charles of Newark and Clarence jr., and Earl, both of Galion.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Timson-Allen funeral home in Caledonia with Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of Galion First Reformed church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery here.

April Rains Keep Mercury Down

"April showers accounted for nearly an inch of rainfall in Mansfield yesterday, and held temperatures down below the 60 degree mark.

Temperatures are higher today, reaching 65 degrees at noon.

According to weather forecasters, tomorrow should bring a return of lower mercury readings accompanied by another spring sprinkling.

Light-Plane Pilots Near World Record

FULLERTON, Calif. — (AP) — If pilots Bill Barris and Dick Reidel remain aloft until 5:44 p. m. (PST) today, they will have equalled the world endurance flight record of 726 hours.

But the two weary airmen, who have been up in their single-motor "Sunkist Lady" since March 15, plan to keep going until they have flown 1,000 hours.

The existing mark of 726 hours was set over Long Beach, Calif., in 1939.

2 Policemen Tied to Trees

LISBON — (AP) — Three gunmen kidnaped two policemen in Weirton, W. Va. early today, drove them to Hanoverton, O. and handcuffed them to small trees.

The kidnapped policemen said after they were rescued the men's descriptions coincided with those of the trio who held up the Bank of Follansbee in Follansbee, W. Va. yesterday and escaped with some $5,000.

On the wild ride, one of the kidnapers lost his nerve and was forced to jump out of the moving car.

ants and hotels, but other stores.

"A belt-line may be a convenience for some, but as far as the city is concerned, it's a failure financially." He added that a large part of the restaurant's business in the summer was from tourists.

Joseph G. Wright, manager of the Mansfield-Leland hotel, declined to comment on the proposed idea.

CALLS IT HARMFUL

The manager of the Hotel Southern, Ray Pierce, said he believed trucks should be rerouted, buts sees rerouting of automobiles as "harmful."

"I think a by-pass will do a lot of harm to business. A good many motorists stop in town when they go through. When they go around they don't stop," Pierce said

He added that parking was the most terrible aspect of the traffic problem in Mansfield.

The board of trustees of the Retail Merchants association will meet during the latter part of next week and V. H. Lodde, secretary-manager, said the rerouting proposal will be brought up for discussion then.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has a meeting set for next Tuesday night to act on the proposal.

One merchant said that parking was Mansfield's biggest problem and that instead of providing parking places, the city was taking them away.

He said the change in parking at Central Park had removed 30 parking places, and helped make a "race track" around the park. He added that one-way streets would also reduce parking places.

The city, he said, should add more parking meters, and he pointed to Diamond street as an example of a street requiring meters.

Truman Gets Pass Today

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators makes his annual pilgrimage to the White House today to present President Truman with a gold season pass and invite him to make the first pitch in the major league baseball opener here Monday.

Griffith, baseball's ambassador of good will, has been going to the White House annually since 1912 when he asked the President Taft to throw out the ceremonial first pitch. Mr. Taft consented. Every President since then has followed suit.

Court Costs Piling Up

Statements are being mailed to collect approximately $1,350 in court costs owed Mansfield municipal court, Clerk Paul Ritchie said.

He estimated 50 per cent of these costs were owed on cases filed in the court from 1942 to 1946.

In all matters filed in municipal court the plaintiff is responsible for court costs, Ritchie said.

The court has legal recourse to collect the costs, he said.

War Crimes Trials Now Completed

Court Convicts 19 Out of 21

NUERNBERG, Germany — (AP) — An American court yesterday wound up the last and longest of all German war crimes trials. It has convicted 19 of the 21 defendants.

Diplomats and government officials were found guilty of aiding a criminal nazi program of plunder and murder.

The trial dragged on for 15 months and produced one of the most detailed pictures yet presented of the inner workings of the nazi government and how its brutal program was carried out. Nearly three years ago the International Military tribunal convicted the top nazis who conceived the programs. The men just convicted were those who administered the nazi plan. And in some cases helped in the planning.

It took the court three days, including night sessions, to read an 833-page verdict, the longest in any German war crimes trial. In disposing of the last two counts the court convicted six and acquitted seven defendants of helping to force millions of conquered Europeans into slave labor.

It convicted 12 and acquitted two of membership on criminal nazi organizations.

Previously the court had convicted five and acquitted nine of plotting aggressive war; acquitted all of conspiracy to commit crimes; convicted four and acquitted three of atrocities against prisoners of war; convicted 14 and acquitted five of taking part in mass extermination of Jews, and convicted nine and acquitted two of plunder of invaded countries.

In the plunger finding the court rejected a defense that the allies themselves violated international law with their occupation of Germany.

American Reporter Visits Red Riviera

By EDDY GILMORE

BLACK SEA COAST — (AP) — This is Russia's Riviera — more than 200 miles of it from Tuapse frontier.

Traveling from Moscow our train entered the coastal region at Tuapse, after cutting through the Caucasian mountains from the city of Armavir.

I have travelled from the White sea to the Black . . . from the Danube to the Bering Strait . . . from the Caspian sea to the Gulf of Finland . . all in Russia. I have never seen anything to equal this in climate and scenery.

The sky is cobalt blue. The sun is beating down with a summer warmth. The vegetation is magnificent — palms, palmettoes, magnolias, banana trees, lemon trees, orange trees, tangerines. Then there are the mountain streams and the beaches.

Over to the left are the lofty, impressive, and snow-capped mountains. They look as the Rockies do around Denver. Here to your right is the Black sea, which today is very green.

At Tuapse we got out of the train in overcoats, felt the sun and then shed the coats and began to walk about and buy tangerines and eat them on the spot.

BEAUTIFUL ESTATES

From Tuapse the train rolled right out to the edge of the sea. From the door of our car I could pitch an orange into the water.

After Tuapse we came to Shepsy. Here are beautiful estates with beaches and near the river Shepsy. It adjoins the sea over a distance of about 1,200 yards stretching far back from the shore.

At Ashe there are numberous rest homes of rare beauty. The magnolia are especially striking — just like the ones down in Alabama, orgia and Mississippi.

Further on is Lazareviskaya where the river Psezuape falls into the sea. Years ago in the wars with the Circassians it was a military fortress.

Still going south along the quiet sea we passed through Little Dagomyss — the former estate of the Tsars.

Then there came Sochi, probably the most popular of the health resorts along the Black sea coast. In addition to all the other sub-tropical stuff here you find bamboo and lotus.

Dozens of health resorts are located here.

From Sochi the railway runs to Adler, parallel to a fine hard-surfaced highway.

Just a couple of miles distant is Matzesta, a health resort with powerful medicinal springs three kilometers from the sea. This is a picturesque mountain valley bordered by fruit trees and gardens.

The mountain panoramas became more impressive. Everywhere were rocks, woods, luxurious plants and early flowers.

Fresh from the chilling snows of Moscow, this easy ride down the Black sea coast has been like coming into a springtime fairyland.

TIP FOR YOUR GARDEN

The most important single factor in successful gardening is the preparation of the seed bed. A poorly prepared seed bed often causes uneven germination, poor stands and insufficient moisture.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

There'll Always Be a "Gawker"

"Harry the Hermit," as he's called, came into town last week and, as usual, caused quite a stir. He looks like a cross between Santa Claus and Daniel Boone.

We had a friendly glass of beer together and I asks him, "Don't you ever get annoyed at the way some people laugh and stare as you go by?" "Shucks no," Harry says. "Only while they're laughin' at me, I'm feelin' a mite sorry for them. Imagine—folks so ungrown-up they can't see I'm really just the same as they are underneath."

From where I sit, Harry's a lot more "civilized" than the people who make fun of him. He's contented, lives the way he believes is right without harming anyone—and what's more, he's tolerant of others whose tastes in living are different from his.

Maybe we all don't look the same, or act the same, or eat or drink the same, but in a free country, why should we?

'Big Shot' of Norway Is Russian Backer

By DANIEL DE LUCE

KIRKENES, NORWAY — (AP) — The big shot of arctic Norway is a $115-a-month clerk who loves communism more than his country's freedom.

You might mistake Gotfred Hoelvold for the most popular man in Kirkenes until you hear the whispers: "Damn comunism. But the Russians could be here in a quarter hour. We don't want trouble."

Norway military intelligence lists Hoelvold as the most dangerous Soviet agent in the far north, but the army itself must use him as interpreter when it talks to Russians on the frontier four miles from here.

Police salute him with almost terrified respect. Nobody dares arrest a communist in this uneasy border region.

Hoelvold leads a bloc of eight reds in the 28-man town council of Kirkenes, edits the only newspaper in the community, pulls the party strings throughout the 18,000 square miles of Finnmark province, and regularly denounces Norway's labor government as "imperialist Quislings."

His only visible means of support is his salary as clerk of the Kirkenes town planning department. But he has what no money could buy — the vast power of the Soviet Union behind him.

During the war, he was the Norwegian mouthpiece of Moscow radio. His line of talk today is straight out of Pravda.

"American capitalists want one thing: a dead Europe," he says frequently.

Forty-five and bespectacled, with rumpled dark hair and melancholy face, he looks more like a village philosopher than a dedicated revolutionary. His ideological training in Moscow from 1928 to 1931, and again from 1940 to 1945, has given him a pat answer to everything.

Norway's freedom?

"The Russian worker is freer," he blandly asserts. "And we Norwegian workers will eventually, too, strike off our capitalist chains."

Like Czechoslovakia?

"Yes, we intend to follow Czechoslovakia's example when the people have learned that our so-called labor government is not giving us socialism."

He insists the Russians are justified in keeping their new postwar frontier with Norway tightly sealed:

"It was along this arctic coast in 1920 that Churchill organized an attempt to crush the Soviet Union with foreign armies. The Russians don't forget easily."

Costly Disunity In Armed Forces

INFORMATION coming from various sources indicates there has been tremendous waste connected with maintenance of the nation's armed forces, largely attributable to lack of unification of the military establishment, as intended under the law passed in July 1947, designed to unify the several distinct services under a secretary of defense.

It appears that this "unification" objective is still far from being reached, according to those who are in best position to know, and estimates place waste at anywhere from a billion to several billion dollars a year.

This subject was brought to public notice a few days ago by a phase of the Hoover Commission report which charged needless waste and extravagance in military expenditures.

This was resented by Army Secretary Royall who contended that charges of "startling waste" and "padding" of budget requests by the Army were "totally incorrect."

But Defense Secretary Johnson is quoted as having said that the Hoover statements were "on the right track," and expressed belief that the desired "unification" is progressing.

But, according to Air Secretary Symington, "failure of the armed forces to achieve real unification is costing the nation billions of dollars annually."

Light regard for billions of dollars, which has grown up among national legislators and administrators in recent years, does not excuse the wasteful expenditures that seem to have become common practice, as it should not be forgotten that all of this money must come from taxpayers—large and small—and that suggested economies are much preferable to further increase in already burdensome taxes.

Work Required To Preserve 'Rights'

ALBERT S. GOSS, master of the National Grange, has written a telling article on the important subject of "Human Rights Versus Human Responsibility." He points out that the General Assembly of the United Nations has officially stressed rights which are theoretically owed the individual by the state, such as the right to rest and leisure, protection against unemployment, housing and medical care and other forms of social security.

Then Mr. Goss writes: "We believe the United Nations is tackling the whole question of human rights wrong end first. . . . What the world really needs is a Declaration of Human Responsibility! People need to learn that they cannot expect something for nothing. Furthermore, self-government falls when a majority fails to realize that they must contribute as much as they take out. For example, the impossible economic situation in France today is the result of the people demanding more of the government than they give. . . .

"It is high time we return to the simple philosophy of willingness to work."

Is $1.25 Haircut Price To Stay?

DISCUSSION of the $1.25 haircut price in Mansfield still seems to be going on at a lively pace in local barber shops, according to patrons who have considerably lengthened the time between visits to one or another of the tonsorial parlors.

As nearly as they can gather, the extra leisure is hanging rather heavily on the hands of some of the barbers and there has apparently been talk of the advisability of restoring the $1 price for a haircut, but, according to one version of a conversation between barber and patron, such action would "seem to be giving in to The News-Journal."

Readers will probably recall, however, that this newspaper has merely contended that there is no apparent justification for the price of a haircut in this city being higher than anywhere else in Ohio—and that the $1.25 price is not general even in the relatively few cities where it is charged in some shops.

If, by chance, restoration of the $1 haircut price is being considered by those who pressured through the raise to $1.25 last fall, it is suggested that The News-Journal attitude in the matter be totally ignored and action based on regard for reasonable compensation for time required in performance of hair-cutting service—and consideration of charges being made in other Ohio cities for a haircut.

Spring Cleaning Can Be Expanded

SPRING HOUSECLEANING is an annual chore in house and yard. It seems to be necessary. How about a spring housecleaning of the mind? It might turn up a surprising number of cobweb-covered ideas which could as well be tossed on the rubbish heap.

And it might turn up one or two, from a forgotten corner, worth dusting off and putting to use.

Commenting on the old-time remark, "The motor car has come to stay", one observer concludes that some of them seem to have stayed too long.

Among so-called improvements in lawn mowers is one said to be so light that it can be pushed by a husband.

Democrats Regain Hope

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — As discouraging as the prospect has been thus far, Democratic leaders in Congress are beginning to feel somewhat better about their situation as regards President's Truman's legilative program.

They realize now that they are headed for a long, hard battle, and that realization, itself, is the beginning of wisdom. Consequently, there has been a re-assessment of their position, a re-alignment of forces, and a consolidation for a slow but steady advance.

The hard-headed practical politicians who constitute the Democratic leadership were conscious of the difficulties ahead very soon after Congress met and they had taken stock, even though they underestimated them.

But many voters and some new Democratic members of congress swept in by the election had a feeling of high optimism, which should have been justified by the election, that many things would be done quickly.

While that illusion has been dispelled, they have reached the second and more healthy stage, which is a determination to buckle down to the fight ahead.

For the large segment of the public interested in the Truman program that means intensified organized effort in behalf of the things they believed they were voting for last November.

* * *

Southerners "Go Along."

ONE of the most encouraging developments for the Democratic leadership is the assurance being given privately that more southern Democrats than had been expected, including some ge erally regarded as conservative, will go along on most of the social welfare program.

It was such assurance, given voluntarily, that ...ed a Democratic party conference in the senate early this week into what was described as the most harmonious thus far.

Senator George (Ga.) stated that most of the Truman program must go through. He is a leading conservative and influential, not only in his party but in the Senate at large.

Afterward, Senator Stennis (Miss.) got up to say that he did not know of any plan among southerners for a coalition with Republicans, whereupon Senator Holland (Fla.) rose to support him in this statement.

The reference was to a hard-and-fast agreement with Republicans such as had been reported likely after the bitter three-week fight over the administration's attempt to curb the filibuster practice, which had irritated many southerners.

Some southern Democrats, of course, will continue to vote on some issues with Republicans, which they reserve as their right, as some Republicans side with the administration on some issues. But the hard feelings stirred up by the anti-filibuster fight seem to have been assuaged.

It may be recalled that southerners contributed the necessary votes to enact a rent control extension law that President Truman accepted as satisfactory.

The strategy henceforth will be twofold. First, to push ahead on all fronts, in committee and on the floor, with the Truman program. Second, to keep the spotlight turned constantly on the Republicans, how they vote, what dilatory tactics they employ, in order to counter what Senator Lucas (Ill.), Democratic majority leader, calls "an attempt by the Republicans to make the 81st Congress look worse than the 80th."

Democratic leaders are aware that they must have a substantial list of accomplishments by the congressional elections next year, and they are charging that the Republican aim is to hold this down to as little as possible.

Democratic leaders likewise are aware that they must get a good deal done in this first session.

If progress has been slow by the regular July 31 adjournment date, then President Truman may take a tour here and there and tell the story, as he did once before so effectively.

He is the party's "secret weapon," though hardly a closely kept secret any more.

Timely Editorial

As Illinois Does It.

The state of Illinois for years has used a highway safety device which enables motorists to negotiate curves and turns with a minimum of risk. Each sign warning of a curve or turn also tells the motorist how fast he can safely go. If it is a gentle curve, the suggested speed may be 45 miles per hour. If it is a sharp turn, the suggested speed may be as low as 15 or 20 miles per hour.

These speed hints, conveyed to the public by means of letters and numerals which reflect headlight beams at night, are generally respected. Motorists have learned from experience that the state of Illinois does not kid them. If the sign says 35 miles per hour, it is better not to try to take the curve at 40.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Effort to Restrict Free Flow of News

By J. C. OESTREICHER

AN EXTREMELY grave menace to the free flow of news and to unimpeded operations by foreign correspondents in the trouble spots of the world has come to the forefront of attention.

Erwin D. Canham, United States delegate to the United Nations commission on freedom of information, has announced that this government will oppose any measures restricting freedom of information to any degree further than now exists.

His statement was made in connection with a resolution on press facilities now under consideration in the U.N. The issue has been overlooked to a great degree because of what presumably are more pressing matters.

But to the average person, in this country and elsewhere, it is of enormous importance. Amendments proposed to the original convention are condemned by Canham as calculated to strangle all present concepts of free and uncensored preparation and dispatch of foreign news.

A resolution officially known as the Convention on Gathering and International Transmission of News was sponsored by the United States to facilitate the work of foreign correspondents in every field.

As first drafted, it was considered eminently satisfactory and as a possible key to far better world understanding. Since that time, however, modifications have been presented which if adopted might compel the United States to repudiate its own brain-child.

Strangely enough, these proposals have not come from Soviet Russia or her satellite nations, where a rigorously controlled propagandistic press is presented to the world as a ridiculous prototype of "free journalism."

The most severe restrictions, as a matter of fact, have been suggested by neighboring Mexico.

The original draft adopted at a Freedom of the Press conference in Geneva a year ago provided for censorship of dispatches only on grounds of "national military security."

Later, on the initiative of the government of Colombia, a committee of the Economic and Social Council deleted the word "military," meaning that any nation could act against a correspondent on almost any conceivable grounds.

Mexico has proposed to add a further reference to "prestige" and "dignity," opening a vista of censorship so wide that a correspondent might fear even to write his own name if its syllables failed to jibe with national policies.

C. F. HUGHITT, chief of the department of commerce small business division, discussing the outlook for the rest of the year: "With too many appliance stores, too many taverns, too many cleaning establishments, competition will be severe and the business mortality rate can be expected to be higher."

KENNETH ROYALL, Secretary of the Army: "We're spending too much money for the national defense we're getting today. There's no doubt about it. We are worse prepared for war than if the unification (of armed services) act had not been passed. It is the craziest absurdity that was ever foisted on the people of the country."

* * *

LOUIS JOHNSON, secretary of defense: "I think the joint chiefs of staff and I myself feel that war is a little further off today than it was a little while ago. I hope that continues."

How Big Business Operates Back-Stage

By DREW PEARSON

(Editors Note — This is the second of Drew Pearson's series on the lobbyists who pull the wires backstage in Congress.)

* * *

WASHINGTON — One of the cleverest lobbies in Washington is the American Enterprise Association, financed by big business, which puts a nutshell analysis of all legislation on the desks of about 400 congressmen every morning.

Obviously, there is no better way to influence legislation than by interpreting legislation to a harassed congressman who doesn't have time to study every bill for himself.

This lobby is supported by Robert Lund, past president of the National Assocation of Manufacturers, and by officials of Johns-Manville, Chemical Bank and Trust, Guaranty Trust, American Steel Foundries, Inland Steel, Chrysler, Bristol-Myers, Brown and Sharpe, United Carr Fastener, and others. It also has the support of some Congressmen, including "Goober Gene" Cox of Georgia, who claims credit for selling the idea to his Mercer University classmate, Eugene Stetson, head of the Guaranty Trust Co.

"It was all my idea," says the Georgia congressman, who is one of the most reactionary members of the House.

Others who helped inspire the assocation were Lew Brown, head of Johns-Manville, Baxter Jackson of Chemical Bank and Trust; Congressmen Dan Reed of New York, Roy Woodruff of Michigan; and the late J. Frederick Richardson, the first manager of the Washington office.

* * *

Moves Into Capitol.

AFTER the Republicans took over Congress in 1946, Congressman Dan Reed induced House GOP leaders to set up a coordinator's office, supposed to do research for members of Congress, and financed out of the public funds.

Lo and behold! Who do you think was moved into this key job? The representative of private business—J. Frederick Richardson. Hitherto, Richardson had been working on the outside as the representative of acknowledged business groups. But now, thanks to Congressman Reed, he moved right inside the halls of Congress and was put on the government payroll. Furthermore, Richardson brought with him the same men who had been working for the American Enterprise Association.

Came last November's election, however, and the victorious Democrats moved this amazing lobby out. Thereupon it became necessary for the American Enterprise Association to get some nonpartisan political collaboration.

They did this by making a deal with the law firm of Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan, a true and loyal Democrat. Sullivan's law firm was hired to analyze legislation and write the daily reports for Congressmen.

* * *

Navy Secretary's Firm.

THE secretary of the navy, sensitive about any connection with the lobby, is very emphatic that he is no longer with his law firm.

"Let's get one thing clear," he snapped, when queried. "I am no longer in the firm. My name is not on the stationery. My name is not on the door."

Sullivan admitted, however, that Malcolm Hardgrove, now Washington representative of the lobby, had talked to him about various matters. Hardgrove is the man who gets information from ex-Speaker Joe Martin's office by occasionally slipping $20 to a Negro messenger, who plays close to the real estate lobby and admits that he interviews 20 to 50 congressmen a day.

"How well do you know Hardgrove?" the secretary of the navy was asked.

"I've seen him three or four times," he replied.

Later the same question was put to Hardgrove.

"John has been a close friend of mine for years," he said.

"But he says he has only seen you three or four times."

"Well, that's true," Hardgove fumbled. "I've just seen him a couple of times."

"You mean you've been close friends for years and you've only seen him a couple of times?"

"I can see that we're not getting anywhere," Hardgrove blurted and hung up.

It may be significant, however, that when the secretary of the navy telephones Hardgrove's office, which he does from time to time, he does not ask for "Mr. Hardgrove," nor does he even use his first name, "Malcolm." He asks for "Mal."

It is also significant that Congressman Percy Priest of Tennessee, a Democrat, says that he would not have endorsed the American Enterprise Association except for the Sullivan law firm's connection with it.

Along with its digests and questions, the lobby sends out pamphlets on economic problems, but seems to confine itself to circulating only the views of big business. Propaganda by the Tax Foundation and the Foundation for Economic Education are featured in the Association's office. Hardgrove, incidentally, does some work on the side for the big - business - financed Foundation for Economic Education.

Faces Being Done Over

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Have you a yen to go in television but a face only a mother could love?

Don't give up! That is my message for today. Just don't give up, Kid.

Do what the big brass in television is already doing. Run, do not walk, to the nearest plastic surgeon and get your face reassembled nearer the heart's desire of video.

Of course, you may have to wait at the operating room door while the plastic sawbones bobs the nose, shortens the chin and trims the ears of the mob ahead of you.

But in good time you, too, may have your face jacked up and rearranged so that you will look human to saloon-side audiences.

My first information that video stars are having their faces retooled for television came through the current issue of Variety, a magazine I read with the aid of an interpreter.

And sure enough, Variety had the right dope (a word used advisedly).

The video press departments of both the Columbia and the National broadcasting systems shyly admit that what the television camera does to the average kisser shouldn't happen to Boris Karloff.

Naturally, as TV spreads from saloon to salon, more and more of its performers are going to put themselves in the garage for vital overhaul and repair work.

The television camera is a far more cruel taskmaster than the motion picture camera, both agreed. It magnifies every blemish. It makes a mountain out of a mole. It adds pounds to its victims in the most unwanted spots and can instantly turn a sweater girl into a bloomer girl, if you will pardon the expression.

A Mr. Vic Damone has just had a tuck taken on his nose for television's sake, and also a Mr. Henry Slade of the Slade brothers. Apparently the other Slade brothers are confident they will do as nature made them.

The Misses Barry, a singing team currently performing at the Chez Paree, a Chicago retreat not to be confused with Carnegie Hall, have also had their schnozzes trimmed, in case television lightning hits.

* * *

Prepared In Advance.

OTHER artists like Milton Berle and Henry Morgan, just like to be pretty. These two outstanding video stars had their noses bobbed and their profiles Barrymored years ago when video was scarcely a gleam in a bar-tender's eye.

The gentlemen at both CBS and NBC, in referring to Morgan and Berle, could only surmise that the duo was (1) either the aesthetic type or (2) had a premonition of television almost as soon as did the inventor.

I mind well when Jack Dempsey, a non-video performer, had his nose sewed back on and prettied-up years ago. But I lay that to the hazards of his profession rather than any prevision of television-to-come.

Also, it was furtively revealed by CBS and NBC, nothing, either make-up or plastic surgery, will conceal a hang-over from the television camera.

A video actor with a hang-over simply looks as if he had picked up the face on the barroom floor and gotten behind it. Nothing will help him.

However, there is a bright side to all this face-value business. From time to time, I have graced the video screen in news and other intellectual (naturally) programs.

Recently at a party I met a lady, or such she seemed, whose husband edits a video publication. With rare discernment, this woman told me that I was the hope of television, its bright new personality and a scintillating addition to the coming art. Who was I to argue?

"And furthermore," she added, "I also have told my husband you are proof of my old contention that you don't have to be good-looking to succeed in television."

That price plastic surgery?

Sheep-Shearing Time

By CALVIN A. BYERS

IT'S APRIL now, and time for shearing sheep. Electric clippers give the job all the speed and efficiency of a production line. The blades move rapidly back and forth through metal guards.

One after another, the sheep are caught by the thick wool of the shoulders and set back upon their hind quarters. Beginning at the muzzle the wool is sheared from face, eyes, ears and rolled downward about the neck.

Down, down, the white creamy fluff billows in a heap, and when the clippers reach the rear quarters the whole fleece lays, white and clean, like an inverted coat.

Very carefully, the dark green pastern stains are sheared away and the impatient ewe struggles to her feet, shakes herself and hurries off to join her husky lambs.

Soon nudging bunting lambskins ripple with the joy of needed nourishment, and their newshorn mother bleats uncertainly and takes them with her into the shed, away from the chilly wind.

The shearer gathers the heap of wool, weighs it tentatively in his two hands, as Isaac of Ivanhoe weighed his shekels. "That's a prime fleece—twelve pounds, I'd say. She's a fine big ewe. Some of the others won't go so high."

"It took you about ten minutes," I said. "It used to take longer, when you and I were young."

We compared notes. At home our sheep were laid flat upon a plank table, and two men worked upon the same ewe with the stiff spring shears. It took all day to do a flock of 50.

It was a small boy's job to hold down the animal's head, and to help wash the wool in the flowing stream of clear spring water, and to hang it up to dry.

At shearing time it was a common sight in our locality to see board fences or rail fences draped with washed fleeces of newshorn wool. Every farmer's family did their own shearing, often "helping out" each other for the sake of being companionable.

If the weather turned cold and rainy, the fleeced flock shivered. There was danger of pneumonia, then. But after a few days an April sun came out, and a warm south wind brought the scent of wild flowers from the ridge.

Thearomatic spice bush bloomed, the teaberry scented the wind, and the sheep were white against the greenest of pastures, while great loads of high-piled wool sacks moved along the country roads and were weighed-in at the shipper's.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"There's nothing cold about the war in the next apartment!"

As Cerf Tells It

Milton Sperling tells about a tough little lad in the gashouse district who poured a pan of water on a passerby, and shouted a number of interesting four-letter words at him. The infuriated passerby yelled up. "Come down here and I will beat the tar out of you." "Come down," repeated the offending brat. "Are you crazy? I can't even walk yet."

ODD FACT

Bible names for children still are more often given than those from other sources.

A Massachusetts law forbids a man's setting fire to his house to smoke out his wife.

Area Industrial Men Study Ways to Curb Traffic Accidents

Experts To Address Conference

Delegation Attends State Sessions

More than 20 representatives of Mansfield industrial firms were scheduled to hear discussions of ways of reducing traffic hazards today during the All-Ohio Safety congress in Columbus.

The congress opened yesterday with nearly 3,000 attending.

Principal speaker today was to be Franklin M. Kreml, director, Northwestern Univer-Highway Director T. J. Kauer was to preside.

A deputy mine inspector, meanwhile, urged that changes be made in Ohio coal mines "to reduce explosion hazards and to make it easier for men to escape" in case of mine mishaps.

Richard McGee of the Ohio Division of Mines told the mining session of congress that "substantial change in ventilating methods are imperative."

Among the Mansfield representatives at the sessions are H. L. Pollock, C. W. Daugherty, P. J. Kipp and E. W. Hartman, of the Ohio Brass company; M. E. Warner and R. W. Phipps, of the Ohio Public Service company, Harry Boyer, of the United Steel Workers, George Calhoun, of the Ohio Industrial commission's Division of Safety and Hygiene; W. C. Leonard of the Ohio Industrial Commission; G. F. Dent, Robert Edwards, and F. D. Fulwider, of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

R. W. Bonifield, of the Humphryes Manufacutring company; Jay McKinley, of the Tappan Stove company; A. O. Preyer, of Ideal Electric company; Robert Russel, J. F. Vrabel, and Frank Wetzel, of Delano Lodge 169; and M. R. Seybold and Howard Miller, of the Barnes Manufacturing company. All foremen of the Mansfield Sanitary Pottery company also attended.

Fire Razes 3 Rooms

Fire burned out three rooms in the home of Fred Bauer, 529 Lily street, this afternoon.

Firemen said that furniture, woodwork and wallpaper were damaged by the blaze. Only the rooms on the first floor were damaged The fire did not do any damage to the second floor of the house.

Firemen said the fire was discovered by the Bauers' son when he returned from school shortly before 1 p. m. Origin of the fire has not been determined.

Mrs. Bauer, called from work, fainted on arriving and seeing the damage caused by the fire, but was quickly revived, firemen said.

One engine from Central station and Company two answered the call. The fire was put out in about 45 minutes, firemen said.

Ancient Greeks counted days from sunset to sunset, Romans from midnight to midnight, and Babylonians from sunrise to sunrise.

Door Damaged

Eleanor Oster of 152 East Second street reported to the sheriff's office yesterday that someone damaged the door on her car by prying off a handle Saturday night while the car was parked at the Blue Goose tavern. She said the license plate was torn off and left on the ground.

Figure of Christ Clear After 1,900 Years, Pastor Says

"The thing that stands out most clearly in the history of the past 1,900 years is the figure of Christ, the Son of God upon Calvary's Cross," Rev. Charles L. Shook told the noon-day audience today at the First Lutheran church. Rev. Shook is pastor of the First United Presbyterian church.

"Nineteen hundred years after it happened we are still beholding Him most clearly; and though Time should continue for 1,900 years more, that figure will still be in the hearts and eyes of men, women and children."

Devotion for today's Maundy Thursday worship was in charge of Rev. E. W. Welch, pastor of the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church. A quartet, David Dickson, Ralph Dickson, Roger Caskey and Paul Tapper, sang, "Jesus Rose of Sharon" as the offertory selection.

Continuing his sermon on the figure of Christ on the Cross, Rev. Shook declared, "Everything in the gospels and the new Testament points back to that figure and the Cross. We cannot partake worthily of the Lord's Supper unless we think of Christ as the One who has delivered us from our sins. Here is deliverance, here is redemption from all sin.

"Christ accomplished something in His death and His life that no one else could do. He could do what God alone could do; He could satisfy God's demands upon humanity. Christ's death accomplished only that which God could accomplish.

"In His death Christ has redeemed us from the curse of the law. It was not His curse but He was made the curse for the sins of His people. Christ bore it all; He took our sins; yours and mine, and bore the curse that we might be redeemed."

City Receives New Truck

The paint division of the city street department received delivery of a new all-purpose van ¾-ton truck today, Eldon W. Davis, superintendent of streets, announced.

Davis said the new vehicle would carry all the equipment needed on several jobs at one time and would eliminate returns to the city building for additional material.

The truck will haul street and traffic signs, paint, and a striping machine used for marking white and yellow lines in certain areas.

Murder Suspect Found to Be Sane

LIMA — (INS) — Psychiatrists, at the Lima state hospital held today that Harry Dodds jr., 20, is legally sand and was sane last Jan 3 when Miss Eleanor Gifford was beaten to death at Athens.

Dodds has pleaded innocent to murdering the former Cincinnati church worker because of insanity. No date has been set for Dobbs' trial in the slaying of the 52-year-old missionary for the Episcopal diocese of southern Ohio.

Jury Considers $50,000 Suit

A $50,000 suit against the Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., went to a common pleas court jury of five women and seven men at 10.15 a. m. today. A verdict had not been returned by shortly after noon.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Zella I. Bradley, on behalf of her son, Charles, 11, and contends he suffered permanent injuries when he fell out of a city bus on Oct. 10, 1946, as a bus door opened while the vehicle was moving.

Hearing of the case began Monday morning.

Miss Taylor Heads Program

Mary Ann Taylor, member of the Sophomore Blue Tri club of the YWCA, will be in charge of the first evening's program at the Y-teen summer conference which will be held at Denison university June 26 to July 2.

Miss Taylor will work with Miss Helen Talbott, Y-teen director from Columbus.

Plans for the conference were made at a meeting of the state steering committee for the conference held in Columbus last week-end.

Miss Taylor attended the meeting as a member of the steering committee.

Nationalist Troops Claim New Victory

LONDON — (INS) — Reuters quoted pro-government sources in Nanking today as asserting that nationalist land sea and air forces have wiped out two more communist regiments and a battalion in a continuing offensive.

Oil Company Wins Verdict

Robert Bogner, of 160 South Adams street, lost his $75,000 action against the Canfield Oil company, of Cleveland and Delmar Oakes, of 183 Rowland avenue, in Cuyahoga county common pleas court in Cleveland yesterday.

Bogner had sued for the sum for burns suffered at the Canfield station at Sturges and Glessner avenues on Nov. 17, 1944, while an employe there. Oakes operated the filling station, subleasing it from the Canfield company.

Judge A. V. Bauman directed the jury to return a verdict for the defendants on the grounds of contributory negligence on Bogner's part when he received the burns.

Bogner was represented by Attorney Marvin Harrison, of Cleveland, while Attorneys Anderson, Will and O'Donnell represented Oakes. The Canfield company was represented by Attorneys Bulkley, Butler and Sprang, of Cleveland.

Au Named In Tax Action

The federal government yesterday filed a federal tax lien notice on property owned by Roger J. Au, Mansfield contractor, who holds the principal contracts for building the Clear Fork water works project.

The notice says Au owes the government $23,102. including withholding, Social Security and income taxes.

The statement is the second amended notice, and incorporates previous federal tax liens filed with the Richland county recorder naming Au.

Shelby Class Work Starts On April 20

Schools Observe Short Vacation

SHELBY — Pupils of the Shelby public schools will begin their Easter vacations after the final classes today and will resume classes Wednesday morning, April, 20.

Meanwhile students of St. Mary's Parochial school started their holiday period with the close of classes yesterday and will return Wednesday, April 20.

Superintendent of Schools Byron Carmean said the shortness of the Easter vacation was to make up for the late opening last fall and in order to dismiss for summer vactions on May, 31, when grade cards are distributed.

Links UEW With Subversive Unit

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The House Un-American Activities committee trained its sights today on the United Electrical Workers of America, third largest CIO union in the country.

An informant revealed that the committee will hold hearings soon, at which it plans to disclose links between the American Slav congress and the electrical union.

The American Slav congress has been placed by Attorney General Clark on his subversive list. A committee source said an investigation has disclosed association between members of the Slav congress and the Soviet embassy.

OK's Licensing Practical Nurses

(Compiled From Wire Services)

The Ohio Senate sent a bill requiring the licensing of practical nurses to the House by a vote of 22 to 7 late yesterday.

The bill, which would affect 5,000 nurses now practising in the state, would place them under the control of the Ohio State Nurses board. The board would set standards for education of practical nurses and would have charge of examinations, school approvals and other requirements towards obtaining a license.

Senator Carl D. Sheppard (R-Akron) flayed the measure, declaring it would mean "socialized nursing."

Special Body Keeps Eye On Physicians

LONDON — (AP) — Britain's state medicine program provides for a special tribunal which may strike a doctor from the public health lists if complaints against him are found justified.

The British Medical association, representing the majority of doctors, protested the inquiry machinery but lost its battle.

Each of the country's 138 executive councils, administrators of the health act, have medical, dental and pharmaceutical service subcommittees to hear complaints.

These may concern disputes with the executive council that a doctor, for example, isn't complying with the conditions of the health service. They may concern complaints by a patient that a doctor failed to provide treatment, or gave only inadequate medical attention.

"The subcommittees have no power to award damages," an executive council official explained. "Their character is more educational than punitive, especially in the early stages of the health service where confusion is bound to arise.

"The subcommittees, made up of a chairman, three professional men and three laymen, may recommend withholding a doctor's fee if neglect is proved. This, in effect, amounts to a fine. They may also recommend that any expenditures, reasonably and necessarily incurred by a patient as a result, be deducted from a doctor's fee.

"In extreme cases, they may recommend that the doctor be taken off the health lists on grounds his retention would be prejudicial to the efficiency of the service."

Only four complants have come before the subcommittees in London so far, the official said. Their nature is kept secret.

"Usually where a patient has complained, investigation has shown it was due to a misunderstanding," he added.

If the question of a doctor's future as a public practitioner comes up, the executive council refers the matter to a special tribunal of three — a barrister, a professional and a lay representative.

If the decision is adverse to the doctor, he has the right to appeal to the minister of health alone.

It was this problem of appeal to which the British medical association particularly objected. They argued the minister was an interested party because he has some say on the executive councils and also appoints the tribunal.

"In a case likely to end a doctor's every chance of a future career, the profession felt a general practitioner should have the right to appeal to one of his majesty's judges before being dismissed from the service," an association spokesman said.

BACKS BOOST — Appearing before a Senate labor subcommittee in Washington, Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin supports the administrationsponsored bill to boost minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents. He added that 75 cents is just "a starting point" and should be raised to $1. (INS)

Set Bicycle Registration

Third in the four scheduled bike registrations will be held Saturday at the Police garage if the weather permits, Identification Officer Paul Martin said today.

Saturday registration will be for those living in the southwest district of the city. It will include those living south of Park avenue west and west of South Main street, Martin said.

In case of rain, the registration will be postponed one week.

It is not necessary to re-register a bike this year, Martin said.

If a bike is registered with the department under its present owner's name, and if the license is intact on the bike, it is not necessary to re-register it, he said.

Any bike that does not have a license aattached on it, or if it is registered under another's name, it must be registered, Martin said.

'Y' Groups Await Data On Survey

Withhold Plans For Fund Drive

A new $1,500,000 joint-building for Mansfield's YWCA and YMCA is still at the head of the list of the Mansfield Citizens Committee on Social Survey, but the date for the actual beginning of the fund-raising drive is undecided.

Fund campaign plans are awaiting the findings of a survey made by a professional fund - raising agency which worked in Mansfield last week.

The American City Bureau, of Chicago, the agency that surveyed Mansfield, will submit its report to the YWCA and YMCA in the next few days, Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA general secretary, said.

The new YW-YMCA building is a part of the Citizens Committee's "Operation Tomorrow," which has already built the new Friendly House and improved the Salvation Army headquarters remodeling.

The two 'Y' organizations are expected to be required to raise about one-third as their share of the building cost. If the "Operation Tomorrow" plan is carried through, Mansfield business and industrial firms would provide the rest of the funds.

Miss Betty Blackstone and A. B. Grafton, presidents of boards of the YWCA and the YMCA, respectively, said, in a joint statement "There is the possility we won't even employ an outside counsel to raise our share of the $1,500,000. We definitely will not use such an agency unless it has the approval of Mansfield groups who will be supporting our program."

Three Overcome By Leaking Fumes

BUCYRUS — Three women employes at the General Electric plant here were overcome by fumes at 10 p. m. Tuesday and taken to City hospital as a precautionary measure. Attaches reported their condition good.

A leaking can of carbon disulfide was brought into the room where the trio was working, and all three, afflicted with asthma, were overcome. They are Mrs. Robert Sewart, 33, and Mrs. Luther Bell, 38, both of Bucyrus, and Mrs. Helen Frazier, 41, of Upper Sandusky.

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Cleveland public school teachers will get a 1949-50 minimum salary of $2,700, highest minimum of any large Ohio city.

The minimum was raised through a $300 boost granted teachers Tuesday by the Cleveland Board of Education, with the raise in 1950 to depend upon passage of a tax levy this year.

Bird Lovers, Dealers Fight Shipping Law On Psittacines

WASHINGTON— (UP) —The love bird comes to America to make love to another love bird

Or maybe coo a little in somebody's living room. Certainly not to spread a lot of bugs around, as alleged.

All that takes a bit of explaining.

The love bird, which makes its home in Africa and South America, comes under the classification of "psittacine" birds. Along with the parrot, the Amazons, the Mexican double head, cockatoo, macaw, lories and a few others. As of now, it is supposed to be against the law to ship them across a state line or bring them in from other countries.

The professional breeders are raising cain. One claims she is losing $8,000 to $10,000 a year.

All of this prompted Rep. Norris Poulson, R., of California, an old psittacine lover himself, to get exercised enough to introduce H. R. 3654. It's a bill that would "forbid the imposition of certain conditions on the interstate or foreign transportation of psittacine birds."

In other words, let the birds come and go as they please, or ship 'em where you will.

Dr. E. T. Martin, president of the California Bird Breeders and Dealers, came out with a report that said only 13 cases of parrot or love-bird inspired "psittacosis" (that's what they call it) had been reported among humans in his state between 1938 and 1946.

Virginia Miller of Sierra Madre, Calif., wrote in to say that a lot of parrots and other crooked-beaked birds she knew had been a great comfort to the disabled.

"People teach 'em how to talk," she said. "It is a fine thing."

Violet A. Watson of Los Angeles, wrote to Cong. Poulson, with another argument. She said she breeds the birds and has lost $8,000 in the last year and stands to lose a lot more real quick if she can't ship what she has. Not only that, she is running out of room to keep the birds she has.

"Besides," she said, " a lot of 'em have learned to talk back — it's awful!"

Admits Weapon Charge, Bound to Grand Jury

Donald Simmers, Bucyrus charged with carrying concealed weapons has pleaded guilty in municipal court and was bound to the grand jury on $500 bond.

He was arrested by police at 2:58 a. m. today on East Sixth street, when they found him armed with a rubber hose loaded with a one-half inch bolt and nut.

Civil Service Jobs Now Open

Positions open with the federal government were announced today by the U. S. Civil Service commission. Examinations for medical technicial (general medical technology), Medical X-ray technician, and tobacco inspector will be given. There will be no written tests.

Further information and application forms may be secured from the commission's local secretary, George H. Hoover, in the Post Office building or from the Civil Service commission in Washington, D. C.

Medical technicians receive from $2,284 to $3,351 a year, and medical X-ray technicians from $1,184 to $2,974. Tobacco inspector salaries range from $2,974 to $5,232 annually.

Naomi Shrine Holds Formal Installation At Eagles

MRS. MIRIAM GROSS was installed as worthy high priestess and Talmage Nelson as watchman of shepards of Naomi Shrine, No. 10, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, at an installation ceremony held Monday evening at Eagles Hall.

The ceremony was opened with an organ prelude played by Mrs. Charles Blosser, installing organist. Following the presentation of distingushed guests, Mrs. Florence Christman, the retiring worthy high priestess, extended a welcome to those present.

The approach to the East was made to resemble a spring garden. On either side of the stage stood a seven branch candelabra and baskets of red and white tulips. A large lighted cross was used in the background. Before the entrance of the officers, Orva Dawson sang "Open the Gates of the Temple".

All officers were attired in identical pink gowns and each carried a colonial corsage. The installing officers also wore long gowns and rose corsages. The corsages were gifts of Mrs. Miriam Gross.

The installing officers included, inviting herald, Pearl Wierman, organist, Cordellia Blosser, soloist, Orva Dawson, installing officer, Edna Berlo, assistant installing officer, Elma Stevenson, installing herald, Thelma Hursh, installing chaplain, Ruby Dye, installing scribe, Fern Wierman, installing guardian, Ada Schuler, installing flag bearer, Anna Leisternsnider, flag escorts, Esther Moneysmith and Maude Crowell, pages, Gertrude Kerr and Miriam Hoffman.

Mrs. Edna Berlo, the installing officer, installed her daughter, Mrs. Gross as worthy high priestess. Other newly installed officers are: noble prophetess, Nellie Phipps, associate watchman of shepards, Lindley Pfister, worthy scrube, Myra Culp, worthy treasurer, Florence Christman, worthy chaplain, Eva Watrous, worthy sheperdess, Rachel Gongwer, worthy guide Nellie Hilligoss, worthy herald, Delores Lamneck, first wise man, Boyd Wierman, second wise man, Jack Breinich, third wise man, Clarence Whalley, king, Harold George, queen, Mildred Sherrer, first hand maid, Olive Pankow, second hand maid Margaret Steel organist, Grace Appleman, worthy guardian, Elvina Musgrove, worthy guard, Harry Devers.

Honorary officers installed were, Juanita Brenich, Alice Wise, Lena Culp, Pearl George, Mary Jane Wilson, Katherine Morris, Mae Cook, Barbara Oswalt, Ethel Brubach, Leah Pfister, Ullnee Whalley, Dorothy Ann George, Maurine Hockett, Barbara Devers, Eva Shaw, Rose Berry, Emma Dye, Mildred McKim, Helen Butts, Ruth Vaughn, Delores Seybold, Helen Castor, Beatrice Fawcett, Ketha Schaefer, Vivian Garn, Irell Christman, Edith Burnison, Milton Dye, John Wise and Earnest Linn.

While Mrs. Gross was still at the altar, Orva Dawson sand, "The Lord's Prayer" and after the installation of Talmage Nelson, the soloist sang, "The Lord is my Sheperd". After the installation of the honorary officers, Mrs. Cordellia Blosser sang "Were You there when They Crucified Our Lord". Mrs. Elma Stevenson installed the honorary officers.

Mrs. Florence Christman was received into membership in the Worthy High Priestess organization. A jeweled ring was presented to Mrs. Christman from Naomi Shrine. Gifts were received by the new worthy high priestess from the installing officers, other officers, friends and and her family.

Refreshments were served from an attractively decorated table in the dining room Guests were present from Ashland, Marion, Wooster and Elyria. The next meeting will be held April 25. Mrs. Gross will leave May 2 to attend the Supreme Shrine Session at Chicago, Illinois.

The tune "Yankee Doodle", is of unknown origin, but appeared in the 18th century as an instrumental air and was a favorite march tune of Revolutionary troops.

Mrs. Bolton Outstanding Woman In Ohio

The Ohio State Association of the Alpha Iota International Honorary Sorority of Business announces that they have selected Mrs. Frances Payne Bolton as the outstanding woman in Ohio for 1949. Mrs. Bolton has been made an honorary member of Alpha Iota. Alpha Iota is made up of select girls in the business field in the United States, Canada and Hawaii and will celebrate its 24th birthday this year by holding their state conclave in Cleveland and the international convention in Colorado Springs, Colo.

A gracious and cultured woman, Mrs. Bolton has represented the 22nd Congressional district since 1940, is the first woman elected to Congress from Ohio. Mrs. Bolton was elected in 1939 "to carry on" where her husband left off upon his death. and she has won every election since, usually with ease.

Mrs. Bolton, unlike many women in Washington, neither smokes, drinks. nor plays bridge. In 1944 she made an unofficial tour of European war theater at her own expense to make sure that wounded American soldiers had the best possible care.

Music is a great part of Mrs. Bolton's life. She often entertains her guests by singing and playing for them in her home at 2301 Wyoming avenue in Washington.

Mrs. Bolton is very active in civic organizations in Cleveland when she is not busy in Washington, particularly doing anything possible to further good health in the community.

W. T. Club Holds Easter Party

The W. T. club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. T. J. Brucato, 519 Louise avenue. One new member, Miss Mildred Strome, was welcomed into the club.

Cards were the diversion of the evening with prizes awarded to Mrs. Harry Zeger and Mrs. William Moffat. Luncheon was served at a late hour with Easter appointments used. The next meeting will be held May 11 at the home of Mrs. Gerald Zeger, 45 Douglas avenue.

EASY COCONUT CAKE

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
Milk (see below for amount)*
1 teaspoon vanilla

*With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening, use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating very thoroughly after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Turn into 9x9x2-inch square pan which has been lined on bottom with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Frost cake with Seven-Minute Frosting and sprinkle generously with coconut while frosting is still soft.

Miss Brinkman Becomes Bride Of Mr. Benham

BUCYRUS — Miss Evelyn Jane Brinkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Brinkman, became the bride of Daniel H Benham, Bucyrus, in a ceremony solemnized here April 2 at the apartment of the bride's sister, Mrs. Jack Lady. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. R. S. Stephens, pastor of Bucyrus Church of Christ, before the immediate families and a number of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Lady was matron of honor and Jack Collins was best man.

The bride's gown was designed with cape sleeves having a lattice effect on the shoulder. It was trimmed with self-covered buttons.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the King's Daughters' Chapter house here for 100 guests Mrs. Richard Shackelford, Mrs. William Korner and Miss Jacqueline Weller served.

The bride, a 1946 Bucyrus High School graduate, has been employed in the offices of the Superior Equipment company here Her husband, who is the son of Mrs. Gladys Benham of Shelby, is employed at the Powers Building Supply company here. He is a World War II veteran.

Class Donates Tea Towels

Mrs. Harold Dysart, Brae Burn avenue, was hostess to members of the Love and Friendship class of the Mayflower church recently.

Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Dora Strimple, in relation to Holy Week and Easter. Tea towels were donated by the members for use in the church kitchen. The class will be hostess to the Women's Fellowship in the church April 27.

The twelve members present held a weiner roast at the close of the evening. The next monthly session will be held at the church.

Galion Study Group Convenes

GALION — Carrying out a theme of "Music and the Flowers," members of the Arts of Crafts club enjoyed an unusual program, Wednesday evening, at the home of the president Mrs. Robert L. Moulton. The program was planned by Mrs. Charles Geiger who invited Mrs. Forrest Hahn as guest vocalist.

Mrs. Hazel McKean who introduced the entertainers opened the program with a sketch on music and flowers; Mrs. Don Kelley gave the story from St. Luke before Mrs. Hahn sang "The Palms." Other numbers included piano duets played by Mrs. R. C. Arter and Mrs. Geiger; piano solos, Mrs. Moulton.

During the meeting, Mrs. Moulton called on several members who have attended the opera in Cleveland this week, and on others who went to Toledo to see the display of German pictures at the Toledo Art Museum.

* * *

A review of Ruth Moore's book, "Fire Balloon," was given by Miss Marybelle Swick, guest entertainer, when she appeared on the program for the meeting of the Sorosis club, Wednesday afternoon. The program was preceded by a one o'clock luncheon at Hotel Talbott for which Mrs. D. G. Strother was hostess. Covers were laid for 15 members. Mrs. C. R. Kammerer presided for business following the luncheon; and after the program, the time was spent in playing bridge. Mrs. Kenneth Petri was high score winner.

Fete Bride-Elect At Shealy Home

CRESTLINE — Miss Martha Walter, bride-elect of George Stover of Shelby, was feted Tuesday evening with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Richard Shealy, East Main street Miss Audrey Weber assisted the hostess.

The guests were the girls of the 1946 graduating class of Crestline high school. Other guests were the bridegroom's parents, Mrs. John Walter of Crestline and Mrs. Lawrence Mason of Shelby.

Games and contests were the diversion of the evening Prizes were presented to the honoree Luncheon was served buffet style with a wedding cake centering the serving table. A color scheme of pink and white was used.

The nuptials of the couple will take place Easter Sunday in an open church ceremony at 3:30 p. m. in the Trinity Evangelical church. The Rev. R. L. Van Scoy will officiate for the double ring service.

Eye-Appealing Drapery Lining Is New Trend

Popularity of picture windows in homes across the country is stimulating a revival of a Colonial home decorating scheme of using attractive drapery linings to catch the eye of passers-by.

Style-wise decorators reason that the reverse side of a drapery fabric viewed from outside should be as smart looking as the fabric seen inside the room The are achieving this effect by lining draperies with fabrics that have distinctive designs and colorings, recommending the technique particularly to enhance the broad expanses of picture windows.

Typical of this new decoration accent is F. Schumacher & Co's cotton print called "Williamsburg Liner," latest addition to the firm's approved Colonial Williamsburg Restoration fabrics The pattern, a small all-over provincial motif, was adapted from an 18th Century original used to line draperies and as an underside for bedspreads.

The design is machine printed on cotton with an Everglaze finish, making it equally usable for upholstery, slipcovers, quilting, dressing table skirts and lamp shades. When used as a lining for draperies, the lustrous surface coating prevents dust from collecting. It is available in six vat colors, including Old Red. pumice, leaf brown, cloudy blue, citron and cypress green, in 36-inch widths.

Schumacher's, in addition to its exclusive contract with the Williamsburg Restoration for reproducing linens and cottons, maintains the largest museum of rare historical fabrics of its kind in the country. Presently the firm is also introducing another approved Williamsburg design Named "John Marshall", in honor of the first Chief Justice of the U S Supreme Court, it is based on a piece of the original fabric which was found in the Marshall home, and is now a prized possession in the Williamsburg Restoration archives The handsome striped pattern has been recolored to fit modern decorating tastes. the palette including boxwood green, claret, blue slate, garnet, resin and tobacco.

Art Study Club Favored With Portfolio By American Artist

By JOAN SCHWEITZ

THE ART STUDY CLUB was honored to have Violet Oakley, the noted mural painter and sculptress, sent the club a personal copy of her published portfolio to use as material for their April meeting.

Miss Oakley, who attended the Arts Students League of New York, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the Drexel Institute of Technology and studied with various artists abroad, will have an unveiling and dedication April 24 of some murals she has painted for the First Presbyterian church, Germantown, Philadelphia. The murals are entitled, "Great Women of the Bible". The artist has said that her life long hope is to illustrate all the Books of the Bible

Miss Oakley, who was called by the Christian Science Monitor, "one of the great artists of the century", has completed three commissions from the state of Pennsylvania for the state buildings She had executed a frieze for the governor's reception room, a series of murals for the senate chamber and supreme court and some studies of William Penn for the state capitol building

During the life of the League of Nations, she was a constant visitor and sketcher. She completed sixty drawings of great historical importance for the library of the League at Geneva. Her works are included in the permanent collections of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the National Academy of Design of New York, Bryn Mawr college, Woodmere Gallery the Victoria and Albert Museum of London and many of her portraits are found in private collections throughout the United States.

In a citation for honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Drexel Institute of Technology, Philadelphia, which she sent to the Art Study club along with her personal portfolio, one paragraph describes her as follows: "Her Full talent, her technical mastery, and her insight have been devoted to the portrayal of that which is noblest in mankind, particularly in her paintings where love of mankind prevails over hatred and prejudice, spiritual aspiration over material ambition, and respect for law and order over these base emotions which would degrade mankind and destroy civilization".

The Art Study club in Mansfield was able to contact Miss Oakley, through Mrs George Cairns' sister, Mrs. Dell Forest Burrill, who at one time owned a studio in New York and was an instructor at Bryn Mawr college Mrs Burrill has lectured on "Law Triumphant", the portfolio which Miss Oakley has lent the Art Study club, and the artist's other work, during the Philadelphia sesqui-centennial celebration by appointment of former governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania

UN Approves Israel Bid For Seat

Committee Studies Further Action

FLUSHING, N. Y. — (UP) — The United Nations' General assembly voted yesterday to include Israel's application for UN membership on its current agenda, but defeated a recommendation that the full assembly take quick action on the bid.

The vote to include the Israeli bid on the UN agenda was approved by 47 to 7 with 2 abstentions. The assembly, however, on a second vote of 31 to 18 with 7 abstentions defeated a steering committee recommendation that the full assembly act quickly on the application.

The second vote, which gained unexpected support from Latin-America and Scandinavia, sent the Israeli application to the UN's Political committee for study. This made it certain that action would be delayed for several weeks.

Only Russia and Australia gave unqualified support to the plan to have the assembly take up the issue quickly.

Defeat of the plan for early voting by the full assembly was led by the Arab state. Other nations lined up behind the plan, however, mainly on the grounds that Israel had not complied with assembly recommendations to internationalize Jerusalem.

Other questions raised during the debate centered on Israeli handling of Arab refugees in Palestine, and Sweden's complaint that the new state had not taken adequate efforts to investigate the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator.

Egypt lined up behind Lebanon to fight immediate action by the assembly on the Israeli bid.

Cucumber Has Everything

By DEAN HALLIDAY
(Central Press Association)

The lowly cucumber has been taken in hand by the plant breeders with the result that the hybrid varieties are now reported to have everything—ideal shape, size, color and table quality.

They also have high resistance to disease, such as mosaic and downy mildew. The vines are heavy, foliage abundant and they produce a heavy yield of fruit.

Illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph is one of the new hybrids which ranked high in the slicing cucumber trials at Michigan State college. It is the Burpee hybrid cucumber which produces well - formed green fruits, eight inches and more long and 2½ inches wide. It has a medium seed cavity and crispy, white flesh of excellent quality.

Another hybrid is called Sensation. It also has the uniformity which is characteristic of first generation hybrids. The fruits average six to eight inches long, with dark green skin, firm, white flesh and small seed cavity.

A beautiful snow-white cucumber that retains the white color when fully ripe also is illustrated It is a standard, smooth cucumber. 8 to 10 inches long and very uniform. It is a heavy bearer and is recommended for slicing and pickles.

Cucumbers, standard or hybrid, are planted much the same as squashes, either in hills or furrows. Space the hills four feet apart and plant 8 to 10 seeds in each hill, about one-half to one inch-deep.

The cucumber is a tender plant; therefore seed should not be sown out-of-dors until both the weather and the soil have become quite warm.

Small Investment Really Pays Off

PORT ANGELES, Wash.—(UP) —Andre Dechance of Kalispell, Mont., realized a 2400 per cent profit on an investment of less than $10 28 years ago.

In 1921, Dechance bought some property here for $9.78. After ping taxes for 27 years, he decided to see what he had acquired.

He discovered his four lots were now the southwest runway of the Clallam county airport, built in 1936

Dogs Bite 2 Boys In City

Two Mansfield children were bitten by dogs Tuesday, one when he reportedly entered the yard of a neighbor where a dog was tied.

Mrs. George Smallstey, 344 Bowman street, reported to police that her son, Larry, 7, was bitten by a dog near the boy's home The child was bitten on the hand.

A dog owned by Oak street road man was ordered tied for 10 days by sheriff's deputies yesterday after the animal bit Harry Nole, 10, of Oak street road, on the right leg.

11 Motorists Cited; Seven Draw Fines

6 Drivers Charged With Speeding

Eleven persons were arraigned in municipal traffic court yesterday, six on charges of exceeding speed limits. Seven drivers were fined.

Four persons entered pleas of guilty to speeding and were fined $10 and costs each when they appeared before Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler.

They were Earl E. Bentley jr., Cleveland; Arnold R. Toler, 270 West Fifth street; Merl G. Leedy, Bellville, and Charles C. House, Mansfield R. D. 6.

Two others forfeited $25 bonds when they failed to appear in court to answer to charges of speeding. They were Lloyd Bennett, Ashland, and Herman Spachner, of Columbus.

Five other drivers appeared before Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler for various traffic violations.

Allen Clifton, 97 Hedges street, pleaded innocent to a charge of unsafe operation of his automobile. His hearing was continued to April 20.

Also charged with unsafe operation, Robert Allen Cunning, Mansfield R. D. 5, pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs.

When he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way, George L. Mather, 168 Wayne street, was fined $10 and costs.

Patsy Lasusa, 331 West Fourth street, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving on the left side of the road, and was fined $10 and costs.

Cecil D. Westfield, Mansfield, R. D. 1, forfeited $25 bond when he failed to appear in court. He was charged with driving without a driver's license.

TRANSFERRED TO SHIP.

LUCAS — Howard C. Weaver jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Weaver sr., local residents, has been transferred from duty at the U. S. Naval Hospital at Key West, Fla., to the USS Cadmus at Norfolk, Va. He received his training at San Diego, Calif., and took a three-month study of radiology at Key West.

Fears ECA Aid May 'Backfire'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Robert F. Secrest of Senecaville, yesterday said he fears the Marshall plan is arming nations which may turn against the United States.

The Ohio Democrat voted against the plan extension passed in the House yesterday.

and built a war machine in Eur-

In a prepared statement, Secrest said:

"We sent scrap iron to Japan and built a war machine in Europe after the first world war. I am afraid we are going down the same road."

MAKE THIS FREE TRIAL OF GARWOOD'S TABLETS

Don't neglect HARMFUL stomach acids. These excess, nauseating acids are a real danger inside of you. Not only do they make your food sour and indigestible, but they also eat into the lining of your stomach. Your organs become swollen and bloated. Your stomach is a nauseating, gassy mass.

Your whole system can be affected by excess stomach acids. For acid is Nature's danger signal! A warning to beware of Toxic infections, muscular aches, colds, constipation and other unhealthy conditions which you become susceptible to when excess stomach acids enter your system!

BEGIN FIGHTING SYMPTOMS AT ONCE!

But be careful. Don't use cheap, untried "alkalizers." Begin NOW to use D. J. Garwood's Private Formula. You can be certain that only pure medicaments are used in this unusual tablet.

One of these ingredients work almost immediately. Right from the first tablet it acts to relieve the horrible burning of stomach acids. Another of its properties carries the anti-acid action into the intestinal tract. And still another protects the delicate and irritated membranes by a pain-relieving coating action.

D. J. Garwood's Private Formula is available in handy tablets. It has included in it an ingredient which helps Nature herself to alkalize your stomach content and bring prompt symptomatic relief. That is why this formula has such amazing results. You, too can join that vast group who have found it possible—after many years—to enjoy a normal meal, without extreme pain.

Richard Beal Elected to Head P-TA at West Fifth School

Richard Beal will head the West Fifth P-TA for the coming year, it was announced today. Beal was elected president of the organization at a meeting at the school Tuesday evening.

Other new officers include Mrs. John Bishop, vice president; Miss Irene Hutzelman, secretary; and John Stock, treasurer.

During the business meeting, in charge of Mrs. Jane Heilman, former president, the group voted to make a donation to the school audiometer program.

Lt. Maj. R. L. Gutterman, of the Volunteers of America, was the guest speaker. He also showed a movie, "The Passion Play."

W. W. Blauser, principal of the school, gave a brief talk, and Stock told of the progress of the new school.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with Easter appointments. Serving on the refreshment committee were Mrs. Ralph Earnest, Mrs. Wilson McLean, and Mrs. J. L. George.

Two Damage Suits Settled

Two suits, arising out of the same acciden., against Clarence E. Williams, as the executor and trustee of the estate of Frank Williams, and against George D. Kistler, of Shelby, have been settled and the cases dismissed by the plaintiffs in common pleas court, journal entries show.

Mrs. Eileen Johnson, of 284 Greenlawn avenue, had sued for $15,000 for injuries she said she received when the car in which she was a passenger was struck by a vehicle of the Frank Williams Transfers and Storage company on Sept. 11, 1946. Her husband, George Johnson had asked $3,500 for medical and hospitalization expenses for his wife. The petitions were dismissed at the defendant's costs.

Nebraska's birth rate dropped from 15,872 during the first half of 1948 to 14,650 for the comparable period the year before.

City Sets Up Street Job Assessments

Auditor Prepares Bill For Council

Tentative assessments for 15 street improvement projects completed in 1948 were released today by City Auditor Paul J. Kelley.

Council is expected to prepare legislation for the assessments, which will be collected from approximately 600 property owners, at its May meeting.

Included are nine paving and five re-surfacing projects. One street was graded and slagged.

Paving projects and tentative assessment per foot are: Grover street,, $7 095; Bowman road, $7.-191; Abbeyfeale road, $7 81; Saxton road, $7.586; Clinton avenue, $7.306; Overlook road, $8 -696; Poplar, $7.465; Fairlawn avenue, $8.085; Wood street (from Glessner to Ohio street), $8.27, and Wood street (from Ohio street to Cline avenue), $8 355.

Re-surfacing projects and tentative assessments per foot include: East Second street, $1.545; North Adams street, $1.61; Orange street, $1.672; South Adams street, $1.515, and South Diamond street, $1.-068.

Tentative assessment for grading and slagging Barnard avenue was listed at $1.663 per foot.

City Issues 4 Permits

Four building permits for the construction of new homes at an estimated cost of $40,000 have been issued by the city, records showed today.

L. E. Dillon, 129 West Fifth street, received a permit to build a five-room brick home at 503 Glendale boulevard, at an estimated cost of $11,000 and a garage at an estimated cost of $500.

A permit was issued to Anna Chuhaloff, 161 West Sixth street, to build a seven-room home at 342 Oakhill place. The permit listed the cost of the home at $7,500 and a garage at $500.

Frank E. Distl, 176 Crouse street, will build a five-room frame and stone dwelling at 470 Sunset boulevard. Cost was estimated at $9,500.

A permit was issued to Walter Lorentz, 453 Forest street, to erect a seven-room brick home with an attached garage at 127 Arthur avenue.

Alleged Killer Denies Charge

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — Milton Babich denied today that he made advances toward 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham before he killed her and eloped with her older sister.

His attorney, Arthur Richter, said that Babich, 19, called Carol Leszynski's story "ridiculous."

Carol, 15, was the closest friend of the murdered girl. She told District Attorney William J. McCauley, that Patricia said Babich "had gotten fresh with her" and had threatened her.

Farm Loans On Upswing

Ohio farmers are converting their debts to long-term farm mortgage loans at a rapid pace, announces M S Kennedy jr., president of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville.

During the first three months of 1949, 624 farmers in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee obtained Federal Land Bank loans totalling nearly $3,000,000.

Ohio farmers during this period received 156 loans for nearly $800,000.

Kennedy saw no significant effect of this debt switching on the over-all amount of farm debt in the state He interpreted the increased demand for the Land Bank's 20 to 33 year loans as a move on the part of Ohio farmers to protect themselves against such drops in farm commodity prices as they have already felt this year.

Brown or White, Eggs All Alike

WASHINGTON (U. P.) — Food superstitions die hard, the Agriculture Department says.

Take the one about eggs. Many people say they prefer brown-shell eggs to white—or vice versa. But eggs are eggs, the department says There's no difference in taste (if both kinds are fresh) or nutritive value.

Then there is the housewives' argument over the relative merits of cane and beet sugar for jelly makeing There's no chemical difference whatever, according to the experts.

Freighter Links Midwest and Caribbean

By HARRY BARNES
(By Central Press)

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The romance of the high seas has found its way up the winding channel of the Mississippi river to St. Louis.

The Angele Higgins, an ocean-going, Diesel-powered vessel some 250 feet long and loaded down with 50 tons of scrap iron and general merchandise, twisted its way around sand bars and pushed its hulk through dense river-bottom fogs to arrive, eventually, at the unloading docks of St. Louis.

The ship's safe arrival promises a new era of river transportation for the midwest, as well as for the Caribbean countries with which contact now is possible by a direct shipping route.

With it, also, comes established proof that the heavier ships of the ocean trade routes can, and will, navigate the Mississippi which heretofore has been used principally by barges as the best method of freight transportation.

The arrival of the ship in St. Louis with its cargo climaxed a voyage of several weeks that was made under a plan advanced by the Beaver Lines company, a subsidiary of Las Americas Shipping company of New Orleans, to establish a direct shipping route between the midwest and the Caribbean countries.

The voyage of the Angele Higgins was, in effect, a test run to determine the feasibility of shipping on ocean-going vessels instead of barges, a process that would eliminate transhipment of cargoes by rail and barge, along with the unloading and reloading of goods and extra drayage charges.

Shipping officials declare if the initial voyage was a success, regularly scheduled trips, in which the ocean-going ships would bring goods to the St Louis area and then return with shipments to Cuba and other points in the Caribbean, would be instituted Six ships would be placed in use, they said, to make these regular trips.

As the plan progressed, and the Angele Higgins departed from Havana, Cuba, with its load of scrap iron and merchandise, the trip was not made without incident

Manned by a crew of 27 men and captained by Capt Frank Kerley of New Orleans, the vessel made its way up the lower channel of the Mississippi river without too much trouble, except a bit of fog, and seagoers are used to that

However, as it neared St. Louis, the ship ran into trouble. It grounded on a sand bar about 40 miles south of the St. Louis docks, but was able to work its way clear.

After progressing another 35 miles, it ran onto another sand bar during a record low level of the river. This time it could not free itself.

The Federal Barge lines sent barges and a dredger out of St Louis to the stranded ship with plans to take off part of the cargo to lighten the load, if that proved necessary. However, it didn't

The dredger scooped away silt and sand from around the ship and eventually she fell free to make her way into East St Louis and St Louis

Just before she arrived, snow fell heavily in the St Louis area, and it was the first time that the crew, made up almost completely of Nicaraguans, had seen snow.

The ship made the test run flying the flag of the republic of Honduras, where it is registered

Despite the difficulties the ship encountered in its initial trip up the Mississippi the captain and the officials of Beaver Lines declares the shipment a huge success, and Harry Ruddiman, manager of the St Louis office shipping line, says that plans for conducting regularly scheduled trips up and down the river will proceed

As for the difficulties encountered during the trip, Capt. Kerley said that it was planned that way.

"We did have trouble," he said, "but we expected it. We picked the worst time of the year, when the river level is at its lowest. If we can make it under these conditions, we certainly can make it under more normal conditions."

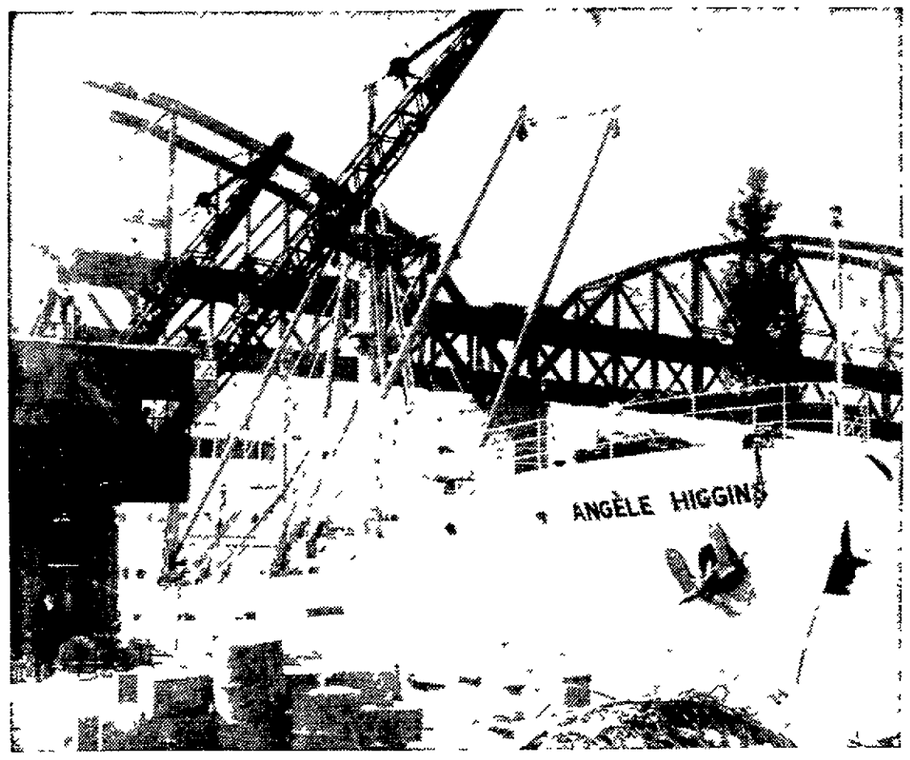
He said that on the next trip, the ship would carry a "real cargo" instead of scrap iron and heavier articles which were used principally as ballast and to weight down the ship for the trial run

As a result of the voyage of the Angele Higgins, a new step in faster, more efficient water transportation has been taken forward as another beneficial factor in the midwestern economy



FROM TROPICS—The Angele Higgins docks just beyond the MacArthur bridge at East St. Louis, Ill.

HIGGINS SAILORS—Natives of Nicaragua, they had not seen snow before

Veteran Vents Ire On Record Of Favorite Marching Song

REDMOND, ORE., — (INS) — The girls at school had practiced marching and baton twirling three hours every afternoon They practiced to the tune of "Stars and Stripes Forever," the only phonograph record with just the right tempo.

After one vigorous session, the man who was in charge of cement work in the new gymnasium finally walked up to the instructor, plunked down an album of records, and took "the Stars and Stripes" off the phonograph, saying:

"You're driving me crazy When I was in the army in Louisiana I woke up to that march every day for six months"

The instructor considered it a good trade and drilled the next day with five new records She took them back to the foreman the next day and explained·

"I'm sorry, we can't seem to march to these"

The man replied: "I'm sorry too, lady, but I've busted that 'Stars and Stripes Forever' into little pieces and mixed them into the concrete."

Crime-Solving By Reporters Tops The Best Hollywood Can Produce

ONLY THE MAN from Mars isn't acquainted with the demon movie reporter who tosses flip cracks in all directions while making monkeys of professional gumshoes by nabbing assorted criminals.

The harum-scarum journalistic yarn has become a Movieville stencil that verges on travesty. However, newspaper history is dotted with tales flavored with Hollywood's wow finish.

One of the most remarkable examples of clue-hunting was turned in by a New York World reporter named Isaac White. He spent six months running down clues that cracked a murder mystery. White solved the case although he had just one piece of evidence to start with—a button from the killer's coat.

There's melodrama galore in this one: During the 1900s a gang of hoodlums were shooting their way through the midwest. One of their victims was a bank teller.

Thanks to the alret sleuthing of St. Louis newspaperman Frank Maguire—enough evidence was unearthed to capture and punish the outlaws. The murdered bank teller was the reporter's brother.

Hocus-focuser Norman Alley played the star role in another dramatic exploit. A gunman on trial for murder not only refused to pose for a picture—but hurled epithets at the photog.

Alley retorted with a haymaker that flattened the hoodlum—and snapped a picture of the unconscious gunman!

Alley once accompanied a reporter to a gambling dive. As the gamblers turned to see who was entering—Alley got his picture. Then he and the reporter hotfooted it toward their car in an effort to make a swift getaway.

The enraged gamblers followed—the two cars zoomed through the streets, careening around corners, zig-zagging through traffic with brakes screeching and motor roaring. Attracted by the wild commotion, the gendarmes collared the gamblers.

Newshawk Charlie Owens ranks as one of journalism's top gang-busters. Naturally, Owens was the target of many underworld threats—but his exposes continued to make it possible for the forces of lawnorder to clamp the hoops on public enemies.

His sleuthing resulted in the conviction of small-time mobsters and caused the indictment of a governor of Illinois.

Playing detective may be an exciting task for newsmen—but it isn't a cinch: It demands diligence and spunk . . . A reporter for the Chicago Daily News once followed a fleeing bank-robber into Canada and continued on his trail when he headed for Europe.

He spent more than a year on the case but finally caught up with the thief—in Germany.

Battling Jack Golomb's Glove Laid Many a Champ On His Back

NOBODY in the boxing game today can lay a glove on Battling Jack Golomb, age 56, weight 125.

But many a ring champion in the last 38 years—from flyweight to heavyweight—has crumbled and gone down from the crashing impact of Golomb's own flying gloves.

A few: Jess Willard, Jack Dempsey, Barney Ross, Max Baer, Henry Armstrong, Gene Tunney, Primo Carnera, and—yes, even Joe Louis.

This would give Golomb the mightiest record in ring history except for the fact that in none of these memorable fights was Jack's fists in his gloves.

He merely made the gloves and sold them. Long ago the little Latvian immigrant decided that, for him at least, there was more money in putting boxing gloves on other people's fists than on his own.

Golomb reached this decision as a 90-pound kid after fighting four times as an amateur.

"I had a fifty-fifty record," he said. "I win two, lose two."

But today he claims 95 per cent of all modern champions have trained or fought with his gloves. And he built up a $1,000,000-a-year sports equipment business from a $5 investment. He got the $5 from his father in 1910.

"I was a ring-crazy kid down on the east side," he said. "I was supposed to be working for my father, who sold tailor trimming supplies. But I spent most of my time repairing boxing gloves for fighters in the neighborhood."

One day the father came to him and said:

"Jacob, the only way a man can learn the value of a dollar is to go into business for himself. Here is $5. Go into business for yourself."

The boy did. He haunted gyms, gave his early gloves away to get promising boxers to use them.

"They were tough and rugged in those days," he said. "They weren't soft like many fighters today. A boxer was proud of a cauliflower ear — it was the badge of his profession. The glove was little more than a piece of leather over his knucks. The training bag was a sailor's duffle bag filled with sawdust."

Golomb pioneered or helped develop many of the safeguards now used to protect boxers—such as the headguard, rubber teeth protector, face mask, plastic foul-proof cup protector and modern training glove.

"The trouble at first was in getting them to use 'em," he said. "Many oldtime fighters thought they were sissy."

The grandmother's - mitten-type glove of forty years ago has graduated to an intricate tool requiring 25 operations to manufacture. It is stuffed with goat, lamb, horse or hog hair and contains 12 different pieces of leather.

Jack says fighters now are particular about their gloves, and many want them made to order.

"Carnera had to be a special job because of the size of his hands," he recalled. "Tunney had a brittle hand. We had to build him a special training glove with a rubber sponge across the knuckles.

Joe Louis has a longer thumb on his right hand than on his left, so each glove had to be different."

Plan Dance For Benefit Of Children

Funds to Aid Friendly House

Dancing feet of Mansfield adults are going to help build strong bodies for city youngsters.

Two area bands will play for dancing at the Coliseum Monday, May 2 and all proceeds will go toward the purchase of badly needed equipment and furnishings for the new Friendly House.

The dance will be sponsored by the Mansfield Amvets and the American Federation of Musicians, Local 159. These two groups have obtained Tommy Van and his orchestra from Mansfield and Speros Karos from Ashland to alternate with dance music during the evening.

Don Kirkpatrick of the Amvets is general chairman. He has been working in cooperation with Harry Beilstein of the Local 159 and Elmer Hedeen.

Today Kirkpatrick announced the committees who will have charge of arrangements.

These include: tickets and ticket promotion, Robert Moore and William Bechtler; hall and equipment, William Herrick, Richard Underwood and John W. Keplar; and publicity, Dale Beer and Louis Doerr.

The ticket sales committee is composed of John Carew, Stanton Fox, William Bechtler, Roslyn Todd, Robert Sneeringer, Frank Schneider, Denzil Schaaf, Don Finefrock, George Warner, Charles Essick, Frank Heitz and Maurice Rice.

Several thousand tickets have been placed on sale for Mansfielders. They may be had at Schumaker's drug store, Sutter's, Hunt's News Depot, Smoke Shop, Richman Brothers, Paul's Friendly store, Tom Woodard's, Ven-Mar drug store, Richland Recreation, Flood's Drug, Park Avenue News and Tawse's Pharmacy.

Firemen Get False Alarms

City firemen answered their second false alarm of the day at 8:45 p. m., yesterday when they were called to Orange street and Third avenue.

Neighbors of the vicinity told firemen they saw three unidentified boys pull the alarm box at the corner.

The first false alarm yesterday came at noon when Central and No. 2 stations went to John Simpson junior high school. A school child admitted that he had accidentally tipped off the alarm at the school.

At 3:45 p. m. firemen from Central station answered an alarm at 30 Bowman street where a short in the wiring of an auto caused slight damage.

Name Funeral Date

Funeral services for James V. Wilson, 78, who died Wednesday morning at his home. 127 Park avenue east, will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 10 a. m. Saturday with Rev. Matthew G. Madden officiating. Burial will be in the Fairview cemetery at Galion.

KATHY LIES IN STATE—Little Kathy Fiscus, dressed in the frilly white frock she would have worn Easter Sunday, lies in state at a mortuary chapel at Alhambra, Calif., prior to funeral services yesterday. Friends file past the casket of the little girl whose tragic death at nearby San Marino stirred the world. Kathy's doll lies at her left.

Pedestrian Hit By Car

Motorist Held After Accident

A 53-year-old Mansfield pedestrian suffered head and body injuries last night when struck by a car as he was crossing Main street at Fourth street.

Police identified the victim as Roy L. Means, 120 Pleasant avenue. Officers said Means was struck by a car driven by Willard H. Baxter, 32, of Crestline. Baxter was arrested for failing to yeild the right-of-way to a pedestrian and cited to appear in court April 20.

Officers said the accident occurred at 10:46 p. m. when Baxter, traveling west on Fourth street made a left turn onto Main street. Means was crossing North Main from the west to the east side.

Means was taken to General hospital where he was treated for scalp lacerations and multiple abrasions of the legs and arms and released.

Two Burglary Attempts Fail

Two attempted burglaries of cars parked in the downtown area last night were unsuccessful for the culprits, police said today.

Aaron Davis jr., 327 Park avenue west, reported to police last night that the lock on the trunk of his car was broken while the car was parked near North Main street on East Dickson avenue. Davis said entrance had not been gained.

At 4 a. m. today, police on routine patrol found the rear window broken out of a car parked near North Park street on Main. The car, owned by Fred Dannemiller, Fairview hotel, was towed to Anderson's garage for safekeeping of valuables in the auto. Police said they believed the window was broken in an attempt to ransack the auto.

Chamber to Back Weaver For Post

The Mansfield Chamber of Commerce has announced its support of C. I. Weaver, of Columbus, for a place on the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Weaver is president of the Ohio chamber.

Weaver has appeared in Mansfield at various times in connection with the Mansfield Chamber's annual dinner and the gas company's local office

Louis Bromfield, author-farmer of near Lucas, is also a director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Dora Fraser Dies In South

Mrs. Dora Reed Fraser, 72, former Mansfielder, died in St. Petersburg, Fla., Wednesday night, following a short illness.

Mrs. Fraser was born in Mansfield and lived here for 22 years before going to New York City and then to St. Petersburg, Fla. She had lived in St. Petersburg for the past 20 years.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews in Indiana and Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at the Bicksler funeral home in Wadsworth at 1 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Wadsworth cemetery.

Meeting Canceled

The regular meeting of the Sophomore Blue Tri club, scheduled for 7 p. m. today, has been canceled. It was announced by Miss Ann Knapp, Y-teen director. Miss Knapp said next week's meeting also has been canceled.

Hunt Scheduled Saturday

Children to Search Park For Eggs

The Easter bunny will visit Mansfield Saturday to leave hundreds of colored eggs in South park.

Mansfield children will get a chance to search for the hidden eggs at an Easter egg hunt at the park at 3 p. m. Saturday. This year's event will be the eighth annual hunt sponsored by the Volunteers of America.

In addition to the fun of hunting for the eggs, the youngsters will be awarded prizes by the Volunteers. Both the child finding the most eggs and the runner-up will be given prizes. And the lucky children who find eggs marked "50 cents" will receive that amount from the Volunteers.

There is no age limit for children who may participate in the Easter egg hunt, and a large number are expected to turn out for the annual event. Among them will be children from the Richland county children's home who take part in the city-wide egg hunt each year.

Last year 250 boys and girls scurried through the park, uncoveroing 700 eggs hidden there.

In case of rain Saturday, the hunt will be postponed until 3 p. m. Monday.

Parish Butts Expires at 64

Parish Butts, 64, of rear 258 North Franklin avenue, died suddenly at his home early this morning.

Mr. Butts was born at Cotton, Ala., Sept. 11, 1884. He came to Mansfield 18 years ago and had been an employe of the Humphryes Manufacturing company since that time.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Annie Butts; five brothers, Paul of Mansfield, Roscoe of Cleveland, Cecil of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Harvey and Aaron, both of Alabama; and four sisters, Miss Clara Butts and Miss Ocie Butts of Alabama, Mrs. Adiline McDow and Mrs. Frances People, both of Pennsylvania.

Friends may call at the Geiger funeral home after 6 p. m. Friday. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Find Plenty Of Water

Plenty of water is available in Richland county and the Mansfield area, the Ohio Water Resources board reported today following a survey.

In its check of water resources in the state, the board reported moderately large ground - water supplies are available in the areas adjacent to Clear Fork, Rocky Fork and Black Fork creeks.

The report said over seven and a half million gallons daily are pumped from this source to Mansfield.

Charles Mill and Pleasant Hill reservoirs of the Muskingum watershed conservancy are estimated to have 5.1 and 9.7 million gallons daily, respectively, available for use.

The city has dammed the Clear Fork in the Lexington area and will begin drawing part of its water supply from the reservoir when a filtration plant is completed.

Optimists See Motion Pictures

Members of the Mansfield Optimist club saw two movies at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The pictures, shown by Sidney Yellen of the Camera shop, included highlights of the 1948 football season and major news events of last year.

Up and Down the Street . . .

RETURN FAVOR—

The Scouts of Troop No. 9, led by Scoutmaster Jack Shay, will be repaying a debt this week-end. The Scouts have been camping on John Hattery's farm near Olivesburg for the past 10 years, using his cabin on the farm, and fishing in the nearby Black Fork. Now the boys are going out to help farmer Hattery with some of his farm work. In the past the Scouts have planted trees for him and given him a general helping hand whenever he has needed it.

OSR Escaper Returns After 11 Days

A 24-year-old Osborn honor camp escaper walked back into the Mansfield reformatory early today, OSR officials reported.

Donald Monroe of Crawford county gave himself up to the night captain at the institution at 3 a. m. As a result of his voluntary return, OSR officials said Monroe would receive the minimum escape penalty of six months additional time.

Monroe walked away from the honor camp on April 3. He was received at the OSR on March 13, 1945 to serve one to seven years for larceny.

Easter Party Held By Girls

Members of Girl Scout troop 39 attended an Easter party at the home of troop member Treva Miller, 283 Reform street, yesterday.

The 16 girls had a wiener and marshmallow roast in the recreation room, colored Easter eggs, and played games.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. H. W. Miller, Mrs. Warren Barnes, and Mrs. Willie Russell.

Today the girls are entertaining their mothers at a tea at the Ohio Fuel Gas company. The tea is being held on the final day of the cooking course the girls have been taking at the gas company.

4-H Club Girls Planning Party

Members of the Happy Hearts 4-H club made plans for a Mothers' day party at a meeting at the home of Willnetta Secrist, Plainview avenue, Wednesday evening. Janet Berry was the assistant hostess.

The party will be held at the home of Jackie Logan, Logan road, May 6.

It was announced at the meeting Miss Betty Logan will be the new club adviser.

Joan Browne was taken into the club as a new member, and Mrs. Thelma Berry attended the meeting as a guest.

Joyce and Jackie Logan will be the assistant recreation leader.

Blame Fog For Bus Accident

Eight Persons Hospitalized

SANDUSKY — (AP) — A Detroit-Cleveland bus and a truck collided in a soupy fog eight miles south of here last night, injuring 14 persons, two seriously.

Visibility was nearly zero, Erie county officers said.

Edward Zimmerman, 30, of Cleveland, driver of the Greyhound bus, suffered possible fractures of both legs. He and seven of his passengers—all bruised and scratched—were in Providence hospital here.

Mrs. Marie Gill, 30, of Detroit, suffered a brain concussion. She and five others, all bruised and cut, were in Samaritan hospital here.

Sheriff Alton Young of Erie county said the bus, which left Sandusky at 10:25 p. m. for Norwalk, first crashed into the rear of an empty tractor-trailer then swerved into a ditch. The tractor-trailer was pushed into the rear of another tractor-trailer it had been following. An automobile then piled into the wrecked trucks.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of Route 250-13.

Among bus passengers with minor injuries were George Teodoro, 36, and his wife Hermogena, 30. He was identified at Samaritan hospital as a United Nations official from Manila. Teodor suffered slight bruises and his wife abrasions on the scalp and right eye.

Malcolmn Peterson, 20, Nova Scotia, slight shock.

E. D. McCarthy, 53, Detroit, lacerated lip and left knee.

Robert Scoon, Cleveland, bruises.

James L. Smith, Binghamton, N. Y., cuts and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Chervok, Detroit, bruises.

Mrs. Eleanor Jackson, Milan, cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Blanche Roggeman, Sandusky, bruises.

Miss Collette Moran, Warren, face cuts.

Guild Seeks Members

The annual membership drive of the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild opens today, Mrs. Harry Cave, chairman of the membership committee, has announced.

The drive precedes the annual exhibit which again will be held at the public library.

According to the letter which Mrs. Cave has sent to members for renewal and to all those interested, there are seven kinds of membership which may be taken out.

Junior membership including those 18 years old may be had for $1; active membership in the Guild is $5; associate, $10; supporting, $25; sustaining, $50; patron $100 and life, $500.

Each of these memberships with the exception of the first, include both husband and wife. There are no special requirements for becoming members.

The membership, Mrs. Cave said, is open to the public. She is being assisted in the drive by Mrs. Harry Lemley, one of the artists of the group.

Death Claims Mrs. McBride

Mrs. Gertrude B. McBride, 67, of 241 Parkway drive, died early today at the home of her nephew, William F. Mountain, in Canton after a few weeks' illness.

Mrs. McBride, widow of Charles W. McBride, was born in Mansfield Jan. 22, 1882, and had spent her entire life in this vicinity.

Surviving, besides the nephew at whose home she died, are two brothers, Harry Zediker of California and Elmer Zediker of Bellville; two other nephews and a niece.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home, where services will be held Saturday at 4:30 p. m. in charge of Rev. John G. Gensel. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home starting Friday evening.

Buyers to Find Plenty of Ham

EASTER menu planners will find hams plentiful this year and prices down two to six cents a pound from last week in many stores and butcher shops.

However, trade sources said hams usually are featured as an Easter special and their prices, trimmed to attract shoppers, do not indicate a lower trend in meats generally. Other meat and poultry quotations are little changed from a week ago.

Lamb, another Easter favorite for many families, continued high because of a scarcity. Lamb prices reached in all-time high last week-end in some cities and remained about the same this week.

Eggs were up one to two cents a dozen from last week unusually high for this time of year. At New York, the butter and egg merchants association said the Department of Agriculture's price-support buying of dried eggs had created an artificial shortage despite near record egg production and "a burdensome surplus."

The association, which said it represents more than 200 distributors in the New York metropolitan area, appealed to Ralph Trigg, president of the Commodity Credit corporation, to reduce the government's dried egg purchase price.

A spokesman for the CCC told the Associated Press, however, that support prices paid so far this year have averaged only 87 per cent of parity (the price level estimated to be equally fair to both producer and consumer), whereas the law requires support at 90 per cent of parity for the year as a whole.

Iceburg lettuce and cucumbers also were a little higher because of smaller shipments. But asparagus and spinach were becoming plentiful, the first lima beans from Florida and California were reaching northern cities, and unusually big shipments of green corn from Florida pushed prices downward.

Harbingers of spring: produce men reported that Florida shipped its first carload of watermelons this week — one of the earliest shipments in years. New artichokes from California and new onions from Texas were arriving in northern markets.

The first outdoor rhubarb from Pennsylvania reached produce counters in other states. And many cities were getting the year's first scallions from nearby farms.

In Cardiff, Wales, there still stands a castle believed to be identified with the legends of King Arthur. Construction of the castle began in 1090.

HARD TO SEE—Visiting his wife and new-born daughter in an Ashland, Ore., hospital presents a major problem to Don Haynes, who is welded into his automobile to win a bet that he will stay there 14 months. To get up to the hospital window to "visit" his family, Haynes had to get his car and all hoisted up to the window sill.—(International).

Declares U. S. Will Win or Lose Next War In First 3 Weeks

Rep. Cannon Urges More Big Planes

Fights Against New Navy Carrier

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Chairman Clarence Cannon of the House Appropriations committee said yesterday that if the United States should fight Russia, we must win the war in the first three weeks by dropping atom bombs on Russia from planes based in western Europe

Criticizing House members who want to increase appropriations for naval aviation, Cannon said that "we must hit Moscow and every other city in Russia within one week after the next war starts-and with land-based airplanes."

"With the signing of the Atlantic treaty we have the bases," Cannon shouted "All we need now is the planes to deliver the bomb."

He said the United States must be prepared in the next war to "equip the soldiers of other nations and let them send their boys into the holocaust so we won't have to send our boys

"That's what the atom bomb means to the United States," Cannon said.

Cannon argued that the navy's proposed new 65,000-ton aircraft carrier would be "sunk in three days" if the navy tried to maneuver it into position where its medium-range bombers could deliver the A-bomb

"And even if it got over there," he said, "it couldn't possibly do the work of long-range, land-based bombers"

Rep. Dewey Short, Mo., ranking Republican member of the House Armed Services committee, agreed that the atom bomb and long-range B-36 bombers are vital. But he contended that "the atom bomb alone will never win any war."

"The next war must be won in the first three weeks' Cannon said "We must in that time pulverize every military center in Russia."

Cannon said that if there is a war with Russia, Soviet forces would control all of Europe within 60 days The U S Air Force must strike its devastating blows before the 60 days have elapsed, he said.

SEEK SAFETY ORDINANCE

DAYTON — (AP) — The Dayton city commission yesterday called for an ordinance and improved municipal inspection service to eliminate hazards to the safety of children.

SIGHTS METEOR — A meteor "as big as a B-36" was sighted by Capt. Ralph Buford, transport pilot, as he was landing his plane at Providence, R. L. The meteor is believed to have crossed over six eastern states. (International)

Bids On Truck Servicing Asked

Bids were sought today for the servicing and storing of Mansfield post office trucks for the period of July 1, 1949 to June 30, 1950, Curtis L Ford, acting postmaster, announced

The bidding is for the eight trucks used by the postal department

The bids for the repairing, lubrication, garaging, and other needed services can be made as a whole or in individual bids.

Information and bid forms are at the Post Office, where the bids must be submitted by noon April 19, Ford said.

Leads FBI to Cache Hidden In Cemetery

NEW YORK — (INS) — Richard Crowe today stood stripped of all but $12,484 of the stolen $883,660 with which he tried to pay debts and ease his family's future.

The former assistant manager of a National City Bank branch last night led FBI agents to $49,122 of the $62,506 heretofore unrecovered from his loot, buried in a box in a Staten Island cemetery

Raging Wind Kills Four

MANCHESTER, GA. — (UP) —West-central Georgia yesterday counted four dead and at least 29 injured after tornadoes zig-zagged across a 50-mile long area last night.

The roaring winds struck in Manchester, Zebulon, Griffin, Concord and Bethany community, tearing down houses, damaging stores, overturning automobiles and knocking out power lines.

The tornadoes missed by less than five miles the town of Warm Springs, where memorial services were held yesterday at the Little White House on the fourth anniversary of the death of the late President Roosevelt.

Two girls, aged eight months and three years, were killed at Bethany, near McDonough, when their house was blown down

Liquor Head Raps Illicit Dealers

DAYTON — (INS) — State Liquor Director Oscar Fleckner struck out at permit holders operating on the fringe of the law last night before a gathering of Dayton Democrats.

However, he held out the palm of peace to what he called "the vast majority of permit holders—decent and upright citizens desirous of doing a good job."

Fleckner said:

"Those who worship only at the altar of the dollar are the ones who will feel the force of enforcement if they do not heed persuasion."

Will Get New Trial

CINCINNATI — (INS) — James R Miller of Girard will get a third Cleveland trial on his indictment for failure to report for "work of national importance" during the last war

Reds to Hold Maneuvers

BERLIN — (INS) — Reliable sources said yesterday Russia will shortly stage mass troop maneuvers, backed by new-type jet planes, in the Soviet zone of Germany to underline its hostility to the Atlantic Pact.

These sources said that the maneuvers will feature "north-south" striking attacks which will bring the 400,000 Red army troops involved face-to-face with U. S. occupation troops.

The purpose of these maneuvers, it was said, is to demonstrate to the west that the Elbe defense line—the eastern boundary of the Atlantic Pact—cannot be held against the power of the Red army.

A European species of beetle-hunting wasp presses down on the bodies of its prey to open an armored joint through which it can sting it into paralysis.

Reveals He Reported On Progressive Party Reds

NEW YORK — (INS) — Herbert A. Philbrick, FBI undercover agent, testified yesterday that he joined Henry A Wallace's Progressive party and the Civil Rights Congress in Boston and reported to the FBI on Communist activities within both organizations.

His statement came while Philbrick was under cross-examination by the defense at the conspiracy trial of eleven top-ranking communist party officials accused of teaching and advocating the forcible overthrow of the United States government.

Philbrick, who has testified he has been reported to the FBI on activities within the communist movement for the past nine years, was asked by Defense Attorney George W. Crocket jr., what civic organizations he belongs to in Boston.

"The Progressive party and also the Civil Rights Congress," replied the young Melrose, Mass., advertising executive.

Q. — (Crockett) — did you report to the FBI on those organizations?

A. — Not on the organizations as such. I reported to the FBI, however, on communist activities within those organizations.

Crockett asked Philback if he was a pacifist when he joined the Cambridge (Mass.) Youth council in 1940.

The black haired, dark-complexioned under-cover man said yes.

Q. — Are you a pacifist now?

A. — No, sir, I am not.

Q. — Was the program of the communist party in Massachusetts one of opposition to war?

A. — No, it was not.

Crockett read to the jury a piece of literature in which the communist party opposed universal military training at one time.

He asked Philbrick if he had ever been in the main headquarters of the communist party in Boston.

Philbrick replied that he had, that it was located in the little building.

Was the name on the door? Yes. Was the party headquarters listed in the telephone book? Yes.

Q.—Did you inform the FBI that communist headquarters was open to anyone who wanted to call?

The government objected to the word "open" and was sustained.

Name Three Judges To Serve At Trial

RAVENNA —(AP) — Three common pleas judges will serve at the trial here April 2 of Mrs. Barbara McVeigh, 30, charged with drowning her two young sons.

Chief Justice Carl Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court has assigned Judge Lynn Griffith of Warren and Hugh Hewitt of Ashtabula to sit with Judge Blake C. Cook.

SAUCERS REALLY FLY—In most cases—maybe—those flying saucers reported from many sections of the country were figments of imagination. Those zooming around Muroc, Cal., however, are real, and they fly. They are targets, built by Roy Wolford, former Air Force test pilot, and they ride at the ends of lines behind airplanes. Machine gunners shoot at them instead of at the older, slower socks. Wolford's flying discs, built in several diameters from 8 inches to 8 feet, are designed to slice cleanly through the air at high speed. They are fitted with stubby stabilizing wings. The small tubes at wing ends are smoke pots that outline a flight path. Photo shows sauucer and plane. (International).

Man Being Held On Parole Order

William F. Parcak, 183 North Mulberry street, was detained in the county jail on orders of state Parole Officer R. H. Belter, deputies said. Parcak is on parole from the Ohio penitentiary.

He was sentenced to one to seven years on Nov. 10, 1944 on charges of grand larceny, common pleas court records showed.

It is possible for the human eye, unaided, to see about 2,000 stars at one time.

Water must be boiling

Scald a crockery teapot. Put in one teaspoonful of tea or one tea-bag for each person. Add fresh, "bubbling" boiling water. Steep for five minutes. Stir, then serve.

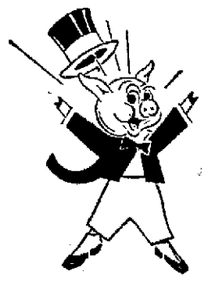
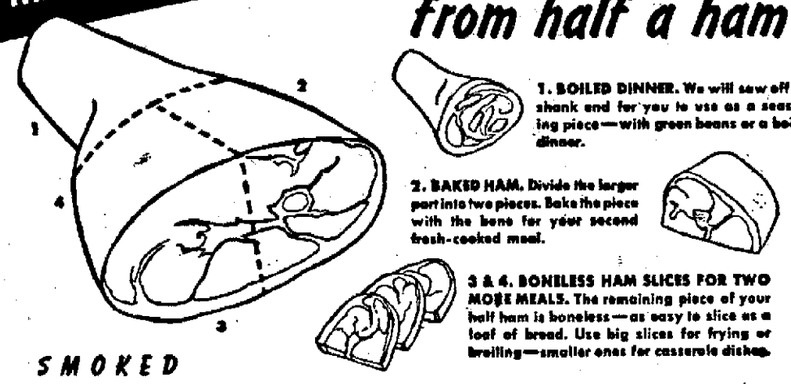
Smoky-Sweet Easter Treat
Sugardale Tender Pig
HAM-M-M!
Here's Mild, Tender, Mellow Ham—Hickory-Smoked and Sugar-Cured to a Rich, Full Flavor

Get the most value for your meat dollar. Half a ham for Easter makes 3 extra fresh-cooked meals, too. Enjoy this juicy, smoky-sweet ham at Easter. It's truly a centerpiece for Easter appetites.



AS ADVERTISED IN LEADING MAGAZINES

Get 4 fresh-cooked meals from half a ham



1. BOILED DINNER. We will saw off the shank end for you to use as a seasoning piece—with green beans or a boiled dinner.

2. BAKED HAM. Divide the larger part into two pieces. Bake the piece with the bone for your second fresh-cooked meal.

3 & 4. BONELESS HAM SLICES FOR TWO MORE MEALS. The remaining piece of your half ham is boneless—as easy to slice as a loaf of bread. Use big slices for frying or broiling—smaller ones for casserole dishes.

SMOKED HAM SWEET and SMOKY

WATCH FOR other helpful ideas from the American Meat Institute on "The Meat Page" in Good Housekeeping, Ladies' Home Journal and Woman's Home Companion. Listen to the Fred Waring Show on NBC each Thursday morning. We feature the meats they talk about—and will be glad to show you how ideas like this help you to serve more meat meals on your budget.

Athletic Director Augie Morningstar felt that he had completed arrangements for Akron Hower to play here on that date, giving Mansfield eight home games. . . . Negotiations had progressed to the point where contracts had been mailed to Hower. . . . However, the deal fell through. . . . A letter from Hower, Principal Otis J. Barnhill to Morningstar said in part: "After considerable consideration it is the consensus of opinion that the football contest between Mansfield high school and the Hower Vocational high school should not be scheduled at this time since our team will not be at its best until 1950 or 1951. The athletic committee asked me to convey to you our own appreciation for your consideration and offer. It is their hope that we might some time in the future schedule a game." Hower has644 students, presumably all boys. . . . Which puts the Akron school about on a par with Senior high in the manpower department. . . . Tyger Ticket Manager George Sherman hopes to have the 1949 season grid tickets ready to go about May 1. . . . The tickets are being made up including seven home games. . . . If an eighth is added Sherman will sell a reduce price tickets for the tilt to season ticketholders. . . . However, he cautioned that no orders would be taken until the tickets arrive in Mansfield.

REPORTS FROM Cleveland say that Cleveland East Tech is really loaded in track this season. . . . Which puts East Tech among the favorites for the 1949 Mansfield Relays crown. . . . East Tech has copped three of the 18 crowns, but hasn't won since 1941. . . . Senior high has copped five crowns while Toledo Scott and Sandusky are the only other multiple winners. . . . Each has copped a pair.

Two More Entries . . .

Two more entries for the Mansfield Relays came in today.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin entered 34 boys while Bethesda checked in with five. Five schools are now in the fold.

Golf Meeting Set Tonight

At least four sponsors have agreed to back teams in the City Class B golf league which is to be organized at a meeting at 7 tonight in the Possum Run clubhouse.

Irish McGee, Possum Run manager, has reported that some 20 golfers have contacted him in regards to playing in the circuit, but that spots would be available for anyone who attends tonight's meeting. An eight team league is planned but it will be jumped to ten if enough golfers want to play.

The league is open to anyone in the city not competing in the News-Journal A league.

Henry Announces W. & J. Schedule

WASHINGTON, Pa. — (UP) — Washington and Jefferson college will play an eight-game football schedule this year, athletic directbr Wilbur F. Henry has announced.

The schedule: Sept. 24, Denison at Granville, O; Oct. 1, Geneva at home; Oct. 15, Bradley Tech at Peoria, Ill.; Oct. 22, Bucknell of Lewisburg; Oct. 29, Carnegie Tech at home; Nov. 5, Buffalo at Buffalo, N. Y.; Nov. 12, Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, O., Nov. 19, Muskingum at home.

Bob Feller To Test Arm Again Today

HICKORY, N. C.—(INS)—Fireballer Bob Feller was to give his strong right arm its final spring test today when he climbed the hill to hurl for the Cleveland Indians against the New York Giants at Hickory, N. C.

Feller, who warmed up for about 40 minutes yesterday at Knoxville, Tenn., where the Giants slaughtered the Tribe, 16-6, was expected to toil for seven innings, his longest stint of the training season. Clint Hartung was to oppose him.

IN GOAT'S ROLE

Steve Gromek played the role of "goat" yesterday as he was banged for 10 runs on eight hits, four of them homers, in the second inning.

From then on, the New York blasters coasted to victory, snapping the Redskins' string at five in a row and leaving the world champs with a slim 6-5 edge in their series with the Giants this spring.

In addition to the bombardment of Gromek, who lasted two frames, the Empire City sluggers blasted Mike Garcia for three runs and five hits in two innings and Bob Lemon for three runs and seven hits in the remaining distance.

The Indians collected 10 hits, including home runs by Manager Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner, and scored once in each of the first three innings.

Sid Gordon, Johnny Mize, Bobby Thomson and Mickey Livingston blasted the quartet of four basers for the Giants.

NOW OUTFIELDERS

The rout gave both Manager Boudreau and Giant Manager Leo Durocher a chance to experiment with their reserves. Boudreau inserted Al Rosen in right field and Orestes Minoso in left, thereby forwarding his plan to make outfielders of the two third basemen. Rosen handled two fly balls with ease, while Minoso didn't get a fielding chance.

Campus Social Life to Lure Football Stars

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Lure of campus social life will be introduced to high school football stars by Ohio State university fraternities in attempts to get gridiron hopefuls to matriculate to the Columbus school.

Assistant football coach Esco Sarkkinen said he has asked the council of fraternity presidents to take the high school stars in hand when they visit the Buckeye campus and "kinda give them an idea of the social life."

Specifically, the fraternities were asked to provide housing and meals for the high school gridders. Other entertainment would be left to the discretion of the fraternity.

Sarkkinen said the athletic department has had little trouble in selling hopeful stars on the athletic and educational phases of college. The social phase, he added, "might stand a little improvement."

Broken Wrist No Handicap

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — The championship crown of the Basketball Association of America rested on the heads of the Minneapolis Lakers today.

The Lakers earned the honor last night by blasting Washington's scrappy Capitols, 77-56. Earned is the only word for it, because the six game playoff was a long, hard stretch for the Minneapolis club.

George Mikan, the Lakers' brilliant center, dropped in 29 points last night to boost his 70 game total for the season to 2,001—an average of 28.6 points per game.

Mikan worked the last two playoff games with a fractured wrist, his forearm heavily padded with bandages.

Game Rained Out

SHELBY — Shelby high school's opening baseball game at Galion yesterday was rained out. The two schools may play the game off today.

5 New Faces Show Up In N-J Head Pin

Five new names were among the thirty leaders in the News-Journal Head pin tournament announced today by Tourney Manager Art Hilborn. Each of the six division had one new face in the top ten except Men's C.

The three new leaders in Women's bracket all rolled together. Ann Sauer went into sixth in Class A with 275, Liz Hoff took second in 'B' with 287, and Helen Hallabrin rolled in fourth in C with 244.

New hot-shots in the men's division are Charlie Bauer who took ninth in Class A with 316 and Jon Klish who is eighth in 'B' with 311.

Montreal Bids For Olympics

MONTREAL — (AP) — Montreal will definitely make a bid to have the 1956 winter Olympic games staged here and in the hearby Laurentian mountains.

J. O. Asselin, chairman of the city executive committee, and A. Sidney Dawes, chairman of the Canadian Olympic association, will leave for Rome next week to press their claim before the Olympic international committee.

The international body will meet in Rome April 24 to determine the site for the '56 games.

Both Melbourne, Australia, and Detroit, who are bidding for the summer games are reported to be supporters of Canada's claim for the winter games.

Young Cage Coach Quits College Job

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — La Salle college is looking for a basketball coach to replace Charley McGlone.

McGlone, who at 29 was one of the youngest college court coaches in the country, resigned yesterday after three successful years. He told athletic director James J. Henry pressure of private business caused him to resign.

9 Senior High Athletes Get Cage Letters

Nine members of the Mansfield Senior high school basketball team were awarded letters at an assembly yesterday at the school.

The 1948-49 Tygers won 19 and lost eight, including sectional and district tournament championships. Only two seniors—Paul Ferguson and Norb Shibinski—received letters. They served as co-captains of the squad.

Coach Vern Hoffman also presented letters to Jim Anderson, Ed Schmitt, Ed Demyan, Charles Marchant and A. C. Jenkins, juniors and Ken McCally and Esker Jordan, sophomores. Demyan received the foul-shooters trophy with a 61.5 percent mark. McCally was second with 60 percent.

Assistant Coach Fred Staub gave sophomore numerals to Gene Fidler, Art Hartig, Billy Reale, Cliff Hammer, Darrell Ewers, Dave Guy, Fritz Haring, Dave Hess, John Fowler, George Shoulders and Jim Hager.

Manager letters went to Fritz Stahlheber and Dave Miller.

Members of the Tyger varsity squad will be feted April 27 at the Richland Recreation center. Tippy Dye, Ohio State coach, will speak at the banquet which is sponsored by the Alumni "M" association.

Buckeye Catcher Prefers Pulling Teeth to Baseball

COLUMBUS — (AP) — When it's a choice between baseball and dentistry laboratory, Ohio State university's catcher, Norb Ranz of Cincinnati, will take the lab every time.

Coach Floyd Stahl said the team may miss its star catcher for all mid-week games this season because they interfere with his dental laboratory. Ranz also is team captain.

Stahl said Ranz's absence at the Ohio Wesleyan game last Tuesday may have affected the score. The Buckeyes lost 7 to 6.

Ranz is playing his fourth season as the Buck's regular catcher. Baseball scouts have tabbed him as a major league prospect.

However, Ranz may prefer pulling teeth to receiving the offerings of pitchers.

Veteran Jockey Under Suspension

ALBANY, Calif. — (AP) — Jockey Johnny Longden begins a five-day suspension Saturday for rough riding at Golden Gate fields.

Longden, who booted home more winners than any other jockey in the nation last year, was up on Thanks Again in Tuesday's juvenile dash. Thanks Again, a top-heavy favorite, came over too sharply from the No. 6 post position, causing a jam, the stewards ruled in suspending him. The horse won by six lengths.

Tyger Tracksters Get Biggest Test

Mansfield Senior high school's track and field aggregation will get its first big test Saturday in the first annual Springfield Relays.

The Tygers have romped over three opponents in dual meet competition but are untested against tough foes. Senior high defeated Columbus East, 92 to 26; Akron Garfield, 101 4-15 to 16 11-16 and Canton McKinley, 102 to 15.

Strictly off the records, Coach Harry Mehock's Mansfield team must be rated among the favorites for the title. Toughest competition is expected to come from Columbus Central and Springfield, defending state track champion.

A squad of 21 Tygers will leave at 6 a. m. Saturday for the Springfield meet. Preliminaries are listed for Saturday at 10 a. m. with the finals scheduled for 2 p. m.

The squad includes:

Sprinters — Tommy Tucker, Harry Carr, Clarence Bailey and Dave Wappner.

440-yard dash—Ophinel Davis, John Fowler, John Petty and Willie Fowler.

Distance events—Paul Hammond, Alan Poorman, Jim Hager and Ken Berkey.

Hurdles—A. C. Jenkins and Sonny Wadlington.

Pole vault—Jim Meister and Don Cline.

High jump—Willie Fowler and Paul Ferguson.

Weights—Harry Osbun, Ken Snider, Jenkins and Bob Hipp.

Broad jump — Tucker and George Shoulders.

Toronto Needs 1 Win For Sweep

TORONTO — (UP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs, who downed the Detroit Red Wings in four straight Stanley Cup games last year, today were only one victory away from duplicating the feat in this year's national hockey playoff finals.

The scrappy Leafs racked up victory No. 3 last night by outclassing the Detroiters, 3 to 1, before an estimated 13,000 fans.

Boston Braves Mutiny Talk Flares Again

BOSTON — (UP) — The Boston Braves were back on their own stamping grounds today — still trying to stamp out rumors of mutiny in the ranks.

As the national league champions aired off against the Red Sox in an intra-city series, all the club officials and some players derided reports that the team was split by dissension over the leadership of manager Billy Southworth.

Denials came at a fast and furious clip after columnist Dave Egan of the Daily Record reported last week that Southworth had turned the players against him and that several, including star southpaw pitcher Warren Spahn, wanted to be traded.

They poured out again yesterday when by Hurwitz of the Boston Globe said Southworth tried to get a vote of confidence from the players at a secret meeting — and failed.

Southworth denied everything when reached at Hartford, Conn.

"I never called a meeting for a vote of confidence," he said. "It would have been a sign of weakness on my part. . .no further comment. This thing has gone far enough."

Catcher Phil Masi, oldest player in point of service with the team said there was "absolutely no truth" to the secret meeting story.

DiMaggio To Receive Treatments

BALTIMORE, Md.—(UP) Joe DiMaggio was scheduled to leave the hospital today, but doctors refused to say when—if ever—he'll go back to baseball.

When the Yankee slugger with the ailing heel packs his grip and walks out of Johns Hopkins hospital, he'll assume the status of an "out-patient," coming back regularly for treatments in the battle to save his baseball career.

'NO COMMENT'

Just how often those treatments will be—or, more important, how long they'll last—the doctors weren't saying.

All that Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, director of Johns Hopkins, would say was that "he will receive the usual treatment for the condition, which is seen in many parts of the body." He added, without further explanation, that "the length of the disability will be determined by the result of the treatment."

Nobody knew where DiMag would go when he leaves the hospital, but hospital officials said he "probably" will stay near Baltimore in order to come in for those treatments.

The official diagnosis of the Yankee Clipper's ailment, made by Orthopedic Surgeon Dr. George Bennett, was "immature calcium deposits in the tissue adjacent to his heel bone."

It was believed that DiMaggio's treatment would consist in X-rays and novocaine injections.

The outfield star, obviously worried about whether the heel condition would end his fabulous playing career which now finds him the highest paid player in the game, came here from the South when pain made it impossible for him to continue play.

The heel, the right one, was operated on last winter by Dr. Bennett for removal of a bone spur. Officials at Johns Hopkins indicated the present calcium deposits are not the same as a spur.

These Guys Can Punch In Ring

NEW YORK — (AP) — The clan Johnston is riding high in the boxing business again. Charley Johnston, brother of the late James J. of iron hat fame, has two of the hittest fighters in the talent-scarce game under his management in Sandy Saddler and Archie Moore.

"Either of my guys will fight anyone in the business," said Johnston with his usual confidence today, "and we'll lick 'em too."

Charley jumps from "I" to "we" in the same breath.

The talk today was more about Moore than of Saddler. After all Johnston doesn't have to speak loud about Sandy. The skinny, hard-hitting featherweight got his innings in the prints with his two sensational fights against Willie Pep.

Moore, 32-year-old light heavy contender from St. Louis, has had an up-and-down career since he started out as a pro in 1936. Right now he is 'way up.

Moore has won eight straight fights, the last six via the kayo route. Jimmy Bivins, a ranking heavy from Cleveland, was No. 6 in the flattening parade. Moore belted him out in the eighth round at Toledo Monday night.

"My guy can lick any of the other light heavyweights around. And the heavyweights too," Johnston declared.

"Archie is a light heavy," Johnston said continuing his monologue. "He hits between 172 and 175 and we might as well get after that title first. Then we'll move in for the heavy crown. But if you know any heavies around who want action now, just let me know. Archie will be glad to supply it."

Cincy Fans See '49 Club First Time

Redlegs Go Up Against Yank Outfit

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Crosley field fans get their first look at the 1949 edition of the Cincinnati Reds today as the Rhinelanders take on the New York Yankees in an exhibition game.

And the starting lineup Manager Bucky Walters is using may be a preview of what the fans will see when the Redlegs tangle with the St. Louis Cardinals in the National league opener here next Tuesday.

Walters said lefty Ken Raffensberger would attempt to go the distance against the Bronx Bombers. The remainder of Walters' probable starters. Homer Howell, c; Ted Kluszewski, 1b; Jimmy Bloodworth, 2b; Virgil Stallcup, ss; Grady Hatton, 3b; Danny Litwhiler, rf; Lloyd Merriman, cw; Hank Sauer, lf.

The Reds' game yesterday with the Philadelphia Phillies at Louisville, Ky., was cancelled because of wet grounds. After today's encounter with the Yankees, the Redlegs will spend three days opposing the Indianapolis Indians. Tomorrow's game will be played at Richmond, Ind., and the final two tilts will be staged at Indianapolis.

Ted Blasts Three . . .

BOSTON —(UP)—Towering Ted Williams had his big bat in tune today as the Boston Red Sox and the Boston Braves returned to the Hub today to renew their intra-city series.

The Sox strong man crashed three home runs at Hartford, Conn., yesterday as the two teams battled to a 10-10 tie called after nine innings by darkness. He also had a single for a perfect day at the plate while Alvin Dark led the Braves with two doubles and two singles.

Problem Not Solved . .

BALTIMORE, Md. — (UP) — Manager Eddie Sawyer of the Philadelphia Phils, who thought he had the problem solved, was forced to seek further today for an opening day pitcher as the Phils came here for an exhibition against the Baltimore Orioles Righthander Russ Meyer had been named by Sawyer as the pitcher for the opener against the Boston Braves. But Meyer had to go to Peru, Ill., yesterday where his father was seriously injured in an auto accident. He hopes to rejoin the team Sunday, but Sawyer said he wouldn't be in condition to start.

Bucs On Rampage . . .

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(UP)— The Pittsburgh Pirates wind up their spring training series today with the Chicago White Sox after outslugging the Birmingham Barons, 10 to 7, at Birmingham, Ala., yesterday.

Catcher Clyde McCullough, Outfielder Ralph Kiner and First Baseman Ed Stevens came through with home runs to lead the Pirates' 13-hit attack. The Barons countered with 15 hits off Rookie Southpaw Bill Werle, who started, and veteran Bob Munchief, who relieved in the seventh inning.

★

Changes His Mind . . .

LITTLE ROCK —(AP)— Unless Manager Red Rolfe changes his mind before Tuesday, this is the way the Detroit Tigers will line up when they open against the Chicago White Sox at Detroit:

Union High Track Team Opens '49 Slate Today

UNION—Union high school will open its spring sports season this afternoon by journeying to New London to meet the thinclads of the Huron county school.

Track practice has been going on only a little over a week at Union but Coach Bill Pedigo is counting on five dual and triangular meets to put the team in shape for the county meet scheduled for May 7 at Mansfield's Stadium field. All meets will be away from home since Union has no track, but Pedigo is attempting to book additional meets for April 21 and 25.

As a team, Union is not expected to cut much of a figure in district circles, but Pedigo has one boy from whom he expects big things. The lad is Dave Walker, husky senior who, in his third night of practice, tossed the discus 115 feet and the shot 40.

The events in which the boys are to compete are:

Dashes—Junior McCormack, John Hale, Dave Walker.
440—Alan Sapp, John Hale Don Wadley.
880 and Mile—Dean Maxwell, Roger Cook, Jim Leedy, Richard Cotsenmoyer
Low Hurdles—Ben Baith, Don Wadley, Bob Garrison
High Hurdles — Bob Garrison, John Franks, Dick Cotsenmoyer
High Jump—John Franks, Alan Sapp, Roger Cook
Pole Vault—Bob Garrison, Dave Fike, Ben Baith
Shot Put—Dave Walker, Dick Bonebrake, Forest Pruner.
Discus—Dave Walker, Bob Garrison, Forrest Pruner.
Broad Jump—Junior McCormack, John Franks, Dick Cotsenmoyer
Other candidates are Jim Sirp, Harold Williams Paul Shanman Wayne Vantiburg, Jimmy Garrison, Roy Baith, Walter Walker, Martin Wolfe, and Donald Boyce

The schedule:
April 18—at Bellville
April 28—at Appleseed
May 2—at Ashland (reserves)
May 5—at John Simpson
May 7—County meet.

Mort Cooper Is Hoping For Hot Weather

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. — (AP) — Mort Cooper, the veteran National league pitcher now essaying a comeback with the Chicago Cubs, is hoping for a spell of hot weather this weekend.

The big right-hander, convinced that his comeback is going to be a success, hopes to try his arm against the Chicago White Sox in the resumption of the spring city series. The 35-year-old Cooper, who in 10 years in the National league won 128 games and lost 76, believes his arm will improve with hot weather.

"My arm feels stronger every time I throw and it doesn't pain me at all," Cooper siad. 'I'm still a bit wild, though. It hurt right along after the first operation on my elbow, but the second cutting seems to have corrected the trouble. There isn't even a twinge now."

It was the sore arm that prompted big Mort to quit baseball last year after a dismal 1947 season with the New York Giants.

Wrestling Card

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Frank Sexton, heavyweight champion of the American wrestling association, and Maurice Tillet, celebrated "Angel" of the mat world, will be paired on a professional wrestling card next Tuesday night in Cleveland.

Kay's Pin Quintet Sets Richland Mark

The Richland Ladies league race was all tied up today as the result of two new season records set last night by the Kay's Shoppe team. Kay's had a 978 single game and 2529 series, both of which are the tops for women's teams this season at the Richland.

Kay's, led by Ruth Southworth and Marty Dye, swept three games with ease from Fairview Bar to tie McCarrick's Gulf for the loop lead with three weeks to go. McCarrick's won two of three from Morgan's Cleaners.

The City Coal team also continued its winning ways although not quite making the score of Kay's. City Coal had a three-game sweep for the third consecutive week by taking three from Ringside.

Individually, Southworth's 188-219-156—563 was tops. Dye had 163-219-176—558 while the only other 500 score in the loop was Elnora Gentille's 506 for McCarrick's. Ann Sauer, Garnet Karl and Billie Cleckner of Kay's had 475, 473 and 460 to give the team five of the top six scores in the loop.

Evidently spring fever is affecting the City A league bowlers. Only ten of the 12 teams in Mansfield's fastest kegling loop rolled last night and there wasn't a single honor score in the crop.

Orlie Grable was the league leader, and he did it with a 593 compiled with games of 171-214-208 for Mitsch's Corner Store. Bob Lynch of Bissman's was two pins behind. Oscar Tracht, Mid-Ohio Amusement, had 580.

Other scores in the loop above 550 were: Cliff Forsythe and Ed Miller, Dr. Pepper, 577; Palmer White, Dr. Pepper, 570; J. De Yarmon, 571; Jack Gaubatz, Waldman Meats, 563; Hal LeMunyon, Homer Michaels and W. Young; 36 Bar, 561, 557, and 55; Floyd Messmore, Bissman's, 553; Carl Phillipon, Mitsch's, 551; and Carl Englehorn, Mitsch's, 550.

League - leading Bissman's dropped two games to 36 Bar while Mitsch's swept three from Waldman Meats.

The Victory league closed its season as Home Interiors jumped all the way from fourth to second place by sweeping three games from Mansfield Screw Machine. Interiors finished five games behind the champion Tony's Canfield.

Dan Bormuth of Ideal Panel and Dick Irvin of Whitney Oils shared honors on the final night as Bormuth had a 563 series and Irvin a 221 single game. Irvin had the second best series, 545. Elmer Myers, Home Interiors, posted 538, Ken Carlisle, Dominion Electric, 527; Earl Turn, Tony's Canfield, 522; and Harlow Hesson, OSR, 521.

★

Once again it was Sis DeWeese at the top of the Dominion Women's league. She turned the trick with 190-146-158—494. Others: Nellie Bonecutter, 469; Evelyn Phillips, 432; Eileen Swank, 425; Radene Lee, 420 and Betty Gerhart, 420.

Branch Rickey Takes Verbal Poke at Suers

NEW YORK — (AP) — Men who have hauled baseball into the courts struck back sharply today at Branch Rickey's charges that the game's reserve clause is opposed by persons of "avowed communist tendencies."

The bushy-browned president of the Brooklyn Dodgers made the statement in a talk before the Baltimore advertising club yesterday.

The people fighting the reserve clause, Rickey declared, "deeply resent the continuance of our national pastime."

QUICK RETURN

The remarks drew quick return fire from Danny Gardella, the former Giant outfielder who has a $300,000 suit against the game pending, and from lawyers representing banned players.

Gardella, now an attendant at a Mount Vernon, N. Y., hospital, said the Rickey statement wasn't worthy of comment and added:

"My lawyer and myself do not intend to hurt the game in any way."

Danny's lawyer, Frederick A. Johnson, said he would match "my own and Danny Gardella's record with that of Rickey any time."

"Rickey," Johnson added, "has had dictatorial powers so long he doesn't recognize the true principles of American life."

"Name calling is the last resort for a beaten man. The treatment Branch Rickey has accorded baseball players would have made Simon Legree blush in shame.

John L. Flynn, representing former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin in a $2,500,000 suit, called the Rickey remarks "so ridiculous they are beyond comment."

Buck Baseball Club Plays ND

COLUMBUS — (P) — Ohio State's baseball team opens its home season with all the trimmings today as it takes on Notre Dame with Gov. Frank J. Lausche scheduled to toss out the first ball.

Pete Perini, big right handed hurler, was slated to take the mound for Ohio in an effort to pull OSU over the .500 mark for the season and at the same time bring OSU its eighth win in 24 baseball games with Notre Dame.

Alex Verdova, out for 10 days with a pulled leg muscle is again ready for left fie... action to pull the Buckeyes up to full strength.

Irish Triumph

SOUTH BEND, IND. — (AP) — Notre Dame defeated the University of Cincinnati in a baseball game yesterday, 9 to 4, behind the five-hit pitching of sophomore Bob Nemes.

Soap Box Derby Champs Get Camping Experience

A fine camping experience is in store for the winner of the eighth annual News-Journal Soap Box Derby when he arrives in Akron, Ohio, to participate in the national and international race Aug. 14.

The Mansfield Derby "king" and champions from 150 other cities will spend the four-day Derby week end at "Derbytown," a fully-equipped camp a dozen miles from Akron. Here the 150 boys will have the twofold advantage of real summer camp life and the unique experience of being feted as one of a group of real heroes for winning their hometown Soap Box Derby race.

Camp Y-Noah, a YMCA camp, is taken over entirely for the Soap Box Derby champions during their time in Akron, and its every facility is devoted to the comfort and entertainment of the young champions. In Akron the boys are the guests of the Chevrolet Motor Division, national co-sponsor of the Derby.

Situated in a rolling, wooded section beside a cool, little lake, "Derbytown" provides every possible form of outlet for youthful enthusiasm and energy. Supervision of the boys by a large group of trained counselors, and provision for food prepared by cooks experienced in the likes and dislikes of growing boys add up to a perfect four-day camping week end.

On the lake the boys, under supervision, can swim, boat and fish. Horseback riding was one of the favorite sports of the 1948 champions, with shooting, archery, baseball and tennis closely following in popularity. There are facilities for crafts and hobbies, and for inside games in a huge recreation hall which is equipped with a stage.

The boys sleep in groups of 10 in modern cabins with a counselor in each, and organized games are frequently a part of their gay week end of fun and play in and about Akron.

As always, the champions will be met upon arrival by train, rail or automobile, and will be whisked with a motorcycle escort to registration headquarters at the Hotel Mayflower. Then they will be taken to "Derbytown," their home for the week-end. On their calendar will be tours of rubber company laboratories; and "Akron Day," when the city's industrial and civic leaders entertain the boys.

TRIAL RACING

Then, too, there is the business of the week end: trial runs with their racers on Derby Downs; for a complete tune-up of the cars; participation in the giant parade that precedes the race at Derby Downs; the thrilling race itself; and the champions' banquet.

Mansfield and area youngsters, 11 to 15 years of age, may register for the Mansfield Derby at the Brandenburg Chevrolet company, co-sponsor of the local Derby. The Mansfield race is scheduled in July.

Other registration centers are: Gump Motor sales, Shelby; Galion Motor Sales; Crawford Motor sales, Crestline; Plymouth Advertiser, Ontario Shell station and Bellville Shell station.
